HARDING PARTY PREPARES FOR PANAMA TRIP

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Nov. 16.—All the comforts of home were available for President-elect Warren G. Harding again today. He will spend the last day of his Texas vacation comfortably quartered at the town home of R. B. Creager, Brownsville lawyer, who arranged the Point Isabel adventure.

A call from Governor W. P. Hobby of Texas, was scheduled for today. Harding hopes to squeeze in a game of golf on his last day before leaving to catch the steamer for Panama.

Senator Albert Fall, of New Mexico, spent part of the day with Harding, arriving here in time for dinner with him last night.

Because of Senator Harding's reluctance to consider problems of state while on his vacation, it was doubtful if the Mexican question in which Fall is interested, will be discussed.

It was reported here that Creager, who induced Harding to come to Texas for his vacation, may be considered for the ambassadorship at Mexico City.

Harding leaves tomorrow morning for New Orleans, where he takes the boat for Panama Thursday.

CRASH AT IRVINE IS FOLLOWED BY CHARGE OF RECKLESS DRIVING

A complaint charging reckless and careless driving was today placed against Y. Heber Diaz of Irvine, by C. H. Hyder of Santa Ana.

The charge was based on an accident last night near Irvine, in which a machine belonging to Diaz collided with a wagon belonging to Hyder.

Hyder claimed to have had the right wheel of his wagon eighteen inches off the pavement when Diaz struck him.

S. A. WOMAN, 85, IS BADLY HURT IN FALL

Mrs. Ethelyn C. Yarnell, mother of M. A. Yarnell, of this city, is at the Community hospital receiving treatment for a fracture of the large bone of the right leg, near the hip. Mrs. Yarnell is 85 years of age.

She suffered the injury while visiting her daughter, Mrs. Abbey Bush, in Los Angeles. Saturday, in attempting to walk up the back steps at the home of Mrs. Bush, Mrs. Yarnell took hold of the faucet of an olla to pull herself up. Due to the strain put upon it, the olla gave way and Mrs. Yarnell fell backward.

The injured woman, who has been making her home in Santa Ana with her son, was brought to the Community hospital in an ambulance.

CONTRIBUTE $49 TO AID FAMILY OF J. W. MEANS

A number of responses were made today to the announcement by the Register last night that it would become responsible for money contributed to a fund for J. W. Means of Tustin. Some of the contributors are personally acquainted with Mr. Means and his family and all spoke of them in highest terms.

Mr. Means suffered the loss of his wife and two children by death recently. The sympathy of this community went out to the husband and surviving members of the family. Friends knowing the circumstances of Mr. Means, and of his efforts to maintain his family, suggested that an opportunity be given the public to assist him in a financial way, through the Register.

Following is a list of those who left contributions up to noon today:

GAY THROUG VISITS HORSE SHOW OPENING

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Foreign nobility, American society, Broadway stars and flocks of just plain ordinary lovers of the horse mingled in Madison Square Garden last night for the first night of the thirty-fifth annual horse show.

It was a real first night, with the usual display of fashion and style by the crowd. The interior of the big garden was decorated to resemble an English village.

The clashes, including everything from tiny bits of Shetland ponies to giant hulks of the draft family, brought out some of the best entries that have ever been shown.

RED ARMY OPENS NEW DRIVE IN UKRAINIA

MOSCOW, Nov. 16.—Fired by the Crimean victory, soviet troops have attacked Ukrainian forces with great success.

Near Mosir, government troops engaged superior forces and occupied Kallinkovitchy, capturing many prisoners and quantities of booty.

Three Petluran divisions were defeated when, after an energetic advance soviet forces occupied a series of points, sixteen miles northeast of Derazhna and ten miles east of Novoushita.

In the Uzhankolsk region an armored train was captured with a number of machine guns and cannon.

AMERICAN DESTROYERS AIDING REFUGEES

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Three American destroyers arrived at Constantinople today with Sebastopol refugees, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch.

The destroyers brought many wounded men, women and children. A thousand more are expected on the United States steamer Faraday.

The evacuation of Sebastopol had been completed before Red troops arrived. The dispatches said the whereabouts of General Wrangel and his fleet of four transports was unknown. Wrangel left port with three transports filled with troops and another filled with wounded men. The general himself was aboard the cruiser Korniloff.

WOMAN IS 'LOOKOUT' FOR BURGLARY TRIO

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16.—Aided by a woman who played the part of a "lookout" burglars looted the residence of F. M. Dayton 1: Catalina street last night, escaping with jewelry valued at more than $5,000, police were notified today.

The woman, heavily veiled, was seen on guard outside while her two male confederates were at work. They fled in an automobile and evidently were frightened away before they could gather up costly tapestries, oriental rugs and silverware which were found in a heap on the floor.

GAS RATE INCREASE MEETS OPPOSITION

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—The Pacific Gas & Electric company contemplates putting through a $135,000,000 program in the next ten years and needs adequate rate increases in order to attract investment. ## Did You Ever Burn a Bearing on Your Ford?

If you have, the chances are two to one it was a front motor bearing.

Why?

Because, in all probability the oil tube became clogged with residue or ravelings from the brake lining, and it failed to deliver oil to the front of the crank case.

Because, the Gravity-Splash System of Lubrication is all right for level driving, but it is absolutely dependent upon a clean oil tube.

Because, it has been thoroughly proven that a clogged oil tube is the main cause for burnt out bearings.

RECKLESSNESS LAID TO PILOT IN CRASH

As an aftermath of an automobile collision near Costa Mesa last night, W. L. Stalter, a resident of that place, today swore to a complaint charging John Fredericks, a barber, of Balboa, with reckless and careless driving. Arraigned today before Justice John B. Cox, Fredericks pleaded not guilty, and his preliminary examination was set for December 8. The defendant gave $100 bail.

In the accident, Stalter and his sister-in-law, Edna Larson, were slightly injured. L. A. and Clara Larson, also riding with Stalter at the time, escaped with slight bruises.

The accident resulted when Fredericks' car skidded as he attempted to avoid hitting a wagon driven by a Chinese, Gee Foy, a vegetable peddler.

Both Fredericks and the Chinese were driving toward Santa Ana. Stalter was approaching from the opposite direction. After striking Foy's wagon, Fredericks' car struck the one driven by Stalter.

The front part of Stalter's car was badly smashed. The left fender and left rear wheel of Fredericks' car were crumpled. Foy's wagon was not seriously damaged.

People living near the scene of the accident, which occurred on the boulevard near Twentieth street, immediately notified the sheriff's office. Sheriff C. E. Jackson and a deputy responded and Fredericks was taken to Santa Ana.

ELKS REHEARSING FOR MUSICAL FARCE

C. J. McNaughtan is back. Who is C. J. McNaughtan? He is the man who staged, last year, under the auspices of Santa Ana Lodge No. 794, B. P. O. E., the comedy success, "We Should Worry."

McNaughtan's presence in Santa Ana means that the local Elks are about to break into the theatrical limelight once more. On the evenings of November 29 and 30 and December 1 the Elks are to stage, under McNaughtan's direction, a three-act, set-to-music farce, "Purple Flashes," at the Yost theater.

McNaughtan is said to carry $5000 worth of scenery and to put over a production which has all the features of a high-class road show, blended with home talent to give it local atmosphere.

Two of the musical features of the show are the "Old Time Song Revue" and the "Fashion Show." In the former, a number of old-time musical comedy song hits are featured, with attractive girls dressed in appropriate costumes, impersonating the leading characters of the songs.

In the "Fashion Show," a number of girls will display the latest in ultra-fashionable attire, while singing some of the new popular song hits. The costuming in this feature is beautiful and effective.

A gold tapestry drapery, made especially for "Purple Flashes," will be used for the setting. Rehearsals are under way at the Elks club.

TWO IN ATTACK CASE ARE HELD TO ANSWER

Harry Harville and Jack Hazel, arrested some time ago on a statutory felony charge, in connection with an alleged attack on a 13-year-old Santa Ana girl, were today held to answer to the charge, and bound over the Superior court following their preliminary hearing in the court of Justice John B. Cox.

Their bail was set at $5000 each, in lieu of which they were remanded to the county jail. Hazel is held as an accessory before the fact. Harville was represented by counsel.

LOS ANGELES—Theatrical circles are interested in the reports that pretty Carmel Myers, motion picture actress, and Isidore B. Kornblum, former Los Angeles attorney, are married. The film star is the daughter of Rabbi Isidore Myers, who refers all inquiries to his daughter. Miss Myers stated that she is "too wrapped up in her work to consider matrimony." Friends, however, insist the couple were secretly married. Kornblum is now in New York.

WRANGLER FORCES FLEE FROM SEBASTOPOL

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 16.—General Wrangel and 30,000 troops are reported to have fled from Sebastopol.

The baron was one of the last to leave Sebastopol when soviet troops approached its outer defenses.

The evacuation of Sebastopol by the civilian population was marked by complete demoralization. Quays were piled high with personal belongings which had to be discarded when refugees boarded ships. Only one-third of those desiring transportation could be carried away by the shipping available.

Other Crimean ports already in the hands of the Bolsheviks suffered like congestion.

In Constantinople many rescue ships rode at anchor, unable to land refugees because of lack of accommodations in the city.

The last hours of Wrangel's occupation of Sebastopol were filled with confusion.

Wrangel's headquarters were removed to the quay, where he directed the final attempts at defense. The sounds of battle were heard distinctly and the civilian population was in an uproar. Wounded straggled back from the front seeking aid and demanding transportation to safety.

The city assumed more of a beleaguered aspect when fires broke out and dense smoke floated over the spires and towers and obscured the masts of vessels in the harbor. Among supplies destroyed were stores of the American Red Cross. Commercial warehouses were threatened, but most of the stores were saved.

The harbor was jammed with war and other craft, hastening in for human cargo to be transported to Black Sea islands or to the Turkish coast.

French and American warships joined in the work, the Americans operating chiefly from Yalta on the eastern shore of the peninsula. In Theodosia and Yalta conditions were much the same as in Sebastopol. Red troops were in full possession of those two cities.

Portions of the Wrangel army remained in the outer defenses of Sebastopol, endeavoring to hold back the invaders until evacuation of the city should be complete.

City and County

Elmer E. Heidt, scout executive of the Orange County Council of Boy Scouts, visited Camp Huntington, the week-end camp of the Pasadena scouts, Monday and last evening he attended the sessions of the normal training class in boy leadership at Pasadena.

That at least 200 members of the Missouri Society of Orange county would be present at tomorrow night's jollification at Neill's hall, was the belief expressed here today. There will be dancing and cards.

Paul E. Wright, county probation officer, and who saw service overseas, will be the speaker at the luncheon of the Kiwanis club of Santa Ana tomorrow at noon. Wright will give a graphic description of the work accomplished by the Red Cross in France, and will tell of the ever present dangers accompanying this organization's tasks.

E. H. Warhurst, who has been connected with Shaffer's music house for several years, has accepted a position in the B. J. Chandler Music store.

John A. McFadden of Tustin, who has been suffering from an attack of appendicitis, is resting easier today and is reported much improved. It is expected that by the first of next week he will be back in his office in the Spurgeon building.

Elmer E. Heidt, Boy Scout executive for Orange County, is to deliver an address tonight at the fathers' meeting of the P. T. A., of Washington school. While the meeting is called a fathers' meeting, mothers, too, are urged to be present. The meeting will start at 7:30 o'clock. A social hour will follow Heidt's address.

George Minter calls attention to the fact that there are not enough seats in Birch park for any major gathering there, and points to the hundreds who had to stand throughout the Armistice Day exercises.

R. E. Reid, of the Reid Motor company, called at the Register office this morning to leave his check—a very generous amount—for the J. W. Means relief fund, and to commend the movement. "I personally know of both the needs and the deserts of this case," said Reid, "and sincerely hope the response will be commensurate."

James Livesey Jr., Don Andrews, Dale Talbott and Tom Willis left this afternoon for the Imperial Valley. They will stop over in San Diego tonight and drive to El Centro tomorrow. The men were in overseas service and are going to the valley to investigate government land propositions. They will also hunt ducks.

L. J. Carden, Charles Seamans, A. J. Lasby and Clyde Elliott are home from a trip of inspection of lands in the central part of the state. They visited Visalia, Hanford, Bakersfield, and points in the vicinity of these cities. Property near Reedley had under consideration in connection with an exchange deal, was investigated, as was also prospective oil land near Tulare Lake. They have not concluded deals for either property as yet. They traveled by auto and during the trip drove up close to Grant's Park.

CHURCH FIGHT ENDS
IN POLICE COURT

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 16.—Police were called to restore order at the First Christian church here after the pastor, the Rev. A. B. Book, had announced that because there was no heat in the church building, communion would not be administered.

A large part of the congregation was in police court either as witnesses or participants on charges of disturbing the peace placed against the minister and several of his congregation.

Decision to remove the communion services was said by authorities to have brought to a head factional differences in the church.

BIG INFUX OF NEWCOMERS TO SANTA ANA

A real estate boom, having its beginning about the middle of last week, is in progress in Santa Ana, according to statements made by dealers today.

Ranches, houses, lots and business opportunities, for cash, are being demanded by strangers who are flocking into the city.

The Imperial Valley is furnishing most of those inquiring for ranches. One real estate dealer said today that he has had four people from that valley call on him in the past two days for the purpose of buying ranches. One of them has already bought and the others are considering several properties.

Listings of ranches, for sale, are increasing daily, another real estate dealer said. He stated that the oil boom was partly responsible for the offering of ranches for sale. Big prices are being asked.

Within the city itself, the biggest demand is for lots. Houses, too, are being sold and transactions during the past few days have included some of the higher priced residences.

Most of the buyers are strangers in the city and have cash with them. Grocery stores seem to be the most popular among those looking for opportunities, although they are willing to take up anything that shows possibilities of good profits.

$6000 AUTO CRASH
SUIT BEING TRIED

A suit brought by Philip and Mary Snyder, of Newport Beach, against Steven Fox, likewise of Newport Beach, in which the Snyders are asking an aggregate of $6000 damages, and all doctor bills and costs, was being heard in Superior Judge Z. B. West's court today. The suit is the outcome of a collision, between the machines owned by the two parties, which took place on the Fairview road near Huntington Beach, last spring.

The Snyders claim that Fox's machine was without lights, and, how, ever, claimed that he was driving clear off the road in the grass at the right hand side because of this fact. Fox also claims that the Snyder machine was without lights, and was running on the wrong side of the road. Snyder claimed that he had two small oil lights on the dash of his car burning at the time. The accident took place about 7:15 p. m.

The Snyders, who are musicians, were on their way to play for a dance at Huntington Beach. Mrs. Snyder was severely injured and her wrist badly sprained. She claims to have been prevented for some time from pursuing her profession because of the accident.

The Snyders are represented by Attorneys Charles D. Swanner and Joe Burke, and Fox by B. E. Tarver and Head & Rutan.

ALCOHOL IS CLUE TO DOUBLE MURDER
OF STAGE BEAUTIES

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Sufficient alcohol was found in the stomachs of Marie Rhoads and Lillian Thompson, actresses found dead in Grant Park here to have caused their death, Dr. W. D. McNally, coroner's physician, announced today.

Traces of no other poison have been found, the physician said, although he said the autopsy was still incomplete.

That the young actresses were kidnapped, drugged or poisoned and taken to the lake front and thrown from an automobile, was the theory police used today in investigating their mysterious death.

Harold Potter, an alleged deserter from the Great Lakes Naval Training station, was taken into custody today. Potter, police said, was a familiar figure around cheap cabarets near where the two actresses lived.

GOOD EVENING.

Each man has an aptitude born with him to do easily some feat impossible to any other. Do your work. I have to say this often, but nature says it often.

—Emerson.

RED CROSS READY

Until all nations of the civilized world are organized in some pattern of efficiency the American Red Cross must stand ready, not only for national but for international relief.

Tempest and flood; earthquakes and fire; accident and calamity—whatever of these fall into the machine of life throughout the world,
the American Red Cross holds itself ready to go and minister in the name of humanity and mercy.

There is still room for the Red Cross.

Civilization today—shattered and broken—is hanging in the balance, uncertain of its future.

Not to be ready; not to answer,
when the world of today and of tomorrow calls, is to be false alike to our duty to God, to ourselves, and to our fellow men.

IF NEWSPAPERS AGREED

Many people criticize "the papers"
because the latter do not agree among themselves. If we may believe Blasco Ibanez, who was lately in America studying the press as well as the public, that is a great blessing—not the criticism, but the disagreement.

He says his tribute, as all clear-seeing foreigners do, to the tremendous power of our national press.
Nearly everything here seems transitory. Political parties come and go; American opinions are this day and that tomorrow; industry scraps its machinery incessantly; houses are torn down to make way for other buildings; towns grow up overnight.

"But there is one thing permanent—the newspaper—the press—which never changes. It is the perpetual, the incessantly dominating force in American life. The power the newspapers have here is not par-alleled in any other country in the world."

The people believe in the newspapers, he says. That is, they believe in their own papers. Every American has his favorite newspaper, and holds to it with a credu-lous faith. If he does change his paper, he believes just as firmly in the new one he adopts.

Now, all these papers are different.
They look at things in different ways. They print, in the main, about the same facts, but they interpret those facts differently, and exert their editorial influence in different directions. Therefore, says the observer, is safety. If they go wrong, the presumption is that they go wrong in different ways, and so cancel
each other's harm. Hear the man:

"It will be a dangerous thing for the United States if at any time all the papers, by the inevitable force of circumstances, go wrong and say the same thing."

"It may well happen that some day the papers will all begin to assert that the sun is rising at midnight. In that case, the American people will stop their work—the most productive and effective work that is being done in the world today—rub their eyes and, after looking at the papers, say: 'Yes, the sun rises at midnight.' And public opinion will compel everybody to say the same thing."

As long as editors disagree, the country is mercifully saved from that.

COTTON SITUATION

It has certainly cost more to produce cotton this year than the growers are now getting for it. A statistical expert in South Carolina estimates the total cost of production
in that state at $225,000,000 for 3,000, 000 acres, with an output of 1,500,000 bales. This estimate covers the cost of fertilizer, rent or interest on investment and cost of cultivation and picking, an apparently reasonable allowance being made for each item.
Deducting $39,000,000 as credit for the seed, the statistician submits a net cost of $186,000,000 which figures out at 30 cents a pound. Other cotton experts are pretty well agreed that this is a fair average cost. Manifestly, it is ruinous to the planter, and ruinous to the merchant to whom he is indebted, if he is obliged to sell his cotton at 20 cents or less.
On the small farms, which are a majority, the cost may be over 30 cents.

A newspaper editor of the same
state, in a confidential letter, says:
"As a matter of fact, the cotton farmers have never made profits on the crop, according to the accepted methods of calculating profits on the average business enterprise. In past years if they realized enough to pay the fertilizer bills and the rent (if the farmer was a renter) and a meager living, in ill-furnished homes, it was about all they expected. Since cotton has been selling above 30 cents, the farmers of the entire South, negroes as well as whites, have for the first time in their lives realized what it means to earn and obtain a fair profit on their labor—

a living wage—that enables them to have some of the comforts of life."

It should be remembered, too, that it is not the growers who have got most of the war-price profits. The same editor explains:
"The greater part of last year's crop was out of the farmers' hands before the price advanced to 30 cents, and they received nothing like the amount of money they are supposed to have received, for when the price was boosted in the winter and spring, the middlemen and mills
had the cotton in their warehouses."
The same thing is going to be done again, say the cotton men, if they are forced to sell their crop now—the price will rise next spring, and speculators and manufacturers will reap the benefit. The cotton belt is demanding credit conditions that will enable the farmers to market their cotton by slow, orderly process instead of having to dump it on the market at ruinous prices.

DISCOVER LEAK

The internal revenue is at work
on plans to curtail sharply the sale of "medicines" and other preparations containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol.

Under the proposed regulations, patent medicines could be sold at drug stores only; perfumes, toilet waters and the like at drug stores and department stores featuring drug departments; flavoring extracts could be handled only by groceries. In every case the sale would be controlled by drastic restrictions.

Little by little the devious ways of evading the prohibition laws are being discovered and stopped. Before long it will be found by the majority of people that securing alcoholic beverages is more trouble than it is worth. In the meantime a vast number of persons are finding life appreciably brighter without any
"mornings after," while the jails
and other reformatory institutions bear witness as to the true worth of the anti-liquor movement.

A Tin Can Age

A trail of empty bottles used to follow the pioneer into the waste places, then follow him out. "Dead soldiers" they called them. Has anybody ever thought of a name for the empty tin cans that are the sign of our modern civilization? They string themselves along the railroads and beside country roads.
They are found on the hillside and in the canyons. They rear themselves in great heaps at the back doors of our cities or are spread over the plains.

This might properly be called the tin age. Anyway it is the period of canned goods and the waste thereof is a blot on the landscape. It cannot be inspiring to the tourist coming to California looking for a land covered with flowers to get his first impression by looking from the train window on territory covered with tin cans. Though not so much a menace they are almost as unsightly as a pile of garbage would be. We can't burn them and we can't exactly bury them. Perhaps they might be used to fill up the low places in the land covering up afterwards with earth. Anyway, our tin cans are a real problem. They are as difficult to dispose of properly as the Japans and may in time become our great national problem.

Protect Americans

Pasadena Star-News
That his foreign policy as President will be vigorously protective of the life and property of Americans, wherever they may be unjustly menaced, is foreshadowed in the utterances of Mr. Harding. In his Armistice day address at Brown-sville, Texas, on the Mexican border,
Mr. Harding said that he likes to "think of a government which protects its citizens wherever they go on a lawful mission, anywhere under the shining sun."

There has not been so much of the protectional spirit from the government at Washington, in the last few years, as red-blooded Americans feel should have been evinced. Americans by scores and hundreds, have been killed wantonly in Mexico, and the protests from Washington have been feeble. The words of President-elect Harding indicate that he,
as President, will not be so forbear-ing with those who slay or despoil American citizens. It is believed by many who are conversant with temperaments and conditions in Mexico, that if the government at Washington instituted a firm, uncompromising policy with regard to killing of Americans below the Rio Grande, the atrocities down there would not be renewed. At any rate, Americans would feel prouder of their country if it were quick and insist-ent in protecting its nationals against bloody outrages.

PROHIBITION

BY WALTER WELLMAN

I never cared for apple-jack, for brandy or for gin; I never cared for whiskey straight; I thought them all a sin. I liked to quaff the water pure from out a mountain spring, and of the oaken bucket I was always proud to sing. When I felt somewhat devilish, some buttermilk I'd sip, but nary glass of booze or hooch could ever pass my lip. Sometimes, when no one was about, I'd slip behind the door, and drink a cup of home made tea, but merely one—no more. I never hankered to be out with other men till late; I much preferred to be at home, and go to bed at eight.
Each morning I would rise at dawn, and hike me to the well; I had no brown taste clinging to my roof, I'm proud to tell. I had a wondrous appetite, and I was strictly fit—until a new amendment passed and put an end to it. The papers told me last July, that "hooch" was gone for good. I couldn't understand the word, but thought that Webster could, and so I tried to look it up when, to my great surprise, I found that Webster didn't know, and couldn't put me wise. A friend of mine was wiser, though, and made the whole thing plain: He said John Barleycorn was gone to ne'er come back again. He took me home; insisted that I try a little taste. I did—my brain was muddled; my intelligence effaced. Now water doesn't taste the same; it has no more appeal; if whiskey is prohibited, I'll borrow, beg or steal a drink of it as long as there shall any of it be. They may prohibit some folks but they'll not prohibit me.

A Hero Unto Death

Long Beach Press

In the atmosphere of Armistice Day, fragrant with memories of heroic deeds and noble sacrifices, the heart-stirring story which the news dispatches bear today from Marshall, Texas, is quite congenial. The hero of this story was a little lad of four, whose prattling lips possibly never framed the word "hero," but who, nevertheless, was saturated with the sublime impulse which the world calls heroism.

It was little Fred Murphy who, imprisoned by flames in his burning home, sought with all his baby strength to save his little sister, 17 months old. The lad could have saved himself. But he chose to perish rather than to forsake his baby sister. In a corner under the bed, fearfully charred, were found the two bodies, the little hero hugging his sister closely in his arms. The mother, returning from a neighbor's and finding the house on fire, was critically burned while trying to save her children.

What better time than Armistice Day to contemplate the beauty and nobility of self-sacrifice for others? This little boy mind tenanted no selfish, sordid, glory-seeking impulses. He was just naturally filled with the lovingly heroic instinct. His mother may have developed this impulse by training; or the child may have come by it by heredity. Whatever the source of it, the impulse and the deed in one so young, stand out in relief as demonstrating the inherent touch of divinity in human nature.

IN ABSENCE.

I am content with you away . . .
"Dearest," I speak, forgetting, "Look!
The line we could not find that day,
Here in the hidden book!"

I move about the room, serene . . .
My foot was nearly on the stair
To show you how this vine's soft green
Looked, bound about my hair.

I smile, and stitch my silken dress . . .
O, almost I had risen, then,
To keep the house in quietness

My day goes swiftly, happily.
In this dear place, in these dear walks . . .
But you are coming home to me,

—Margaret Widdener, in Good Housekeeping.

TODAY'S TALK

By George Matthew Adams

EXPRESSION.

To live correctly is to express.
A man leaves behind him that which he has given to the world in his own expression. My room is the expression of a builder. The pictures on my walls, the books in the cases beside me, the pieces of furniture all around me—everything that my eyes see—are expressions of the handiwork of other minds.

The man who doesn't express, is already dead—though he may move and take up valuable space.

He lives most who expresses best!
No matter what you do, your life of expression is important and very vital—just so long as that expression means the best of you.

Try to express yourself in the finest way you know how. Do not be satisfied with mediocrity.

And make each day's effort an improvement upon the previous day's.
You are always working for yourself no matter for whom you work!

So that great expression must accompany infinite pains and hard work. We must keep looking up. We must look away from those things which depress and lower our desire to fulfill a big destiny.

Sometimes we are bound to express ourselves very poorly—but through patience and constancy of aim are we able to climb and grow.

Crime In California

Stockton Record

That crime and its attendant results are costing the state of California $38,000 annually is the declaration of Chief of Police August Vol-mer of Berkeley in a report forwarded to Governor William D. Stephens.
"Scientific survey" of the causes of crime he made immediately. He declares so called modern police methods are failing to prevent crime and that a steady increase of acts against life and property are occurring. That a majority of the criminals taken into custody are mentally and physically deficient and that to their ill-can be traced the causes of their offenses is the contention of the criminologists.

Discussing the situation Chief Volmer says:
"California must awake to the fact that it must provide a new institution for its offenders. Of what good is a psychopathic examination which shows a person of criminal tendencies to be hopelessly ill mentally when all the officers of the law can do under present conditions is either to send such a person to jail or turn him loose? Certainly a jail sentence won't cure and to turn him loose is but to give him new opportunities to commit crime."

"It is certain that our present methods have done but little to stop crime. The Massachusetts psychopathic hospital has paved the way for other states to follow if they desire really to find a solution for the present deplorable situation. What are the officials and people of California going to do about it? The answer depends on them."

GLEANINGS

Literally Speaking

A patriotic Scotsman was present at a meeting at which an eminent Shakespearean scholar dwelt on the virtues of his favorite author. At the close the Scot approached the lecturer and said:

"Ye think a fine lot of Shakespeare, doctor?"

"I do sir," was the emphatic reply.

"An' ye think he was mair clever than Rabbin Burns?"

"Why, there is no comparison between them."

"Maybe no, but ye tell us the night
it was Shakespeare who wrote, 'Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown.' Now, Rabbin would never have written sic nonsense as that."

"Nonsense, sir!" cried the indignant doctor.
"Ay, just nonsense. Rabbin would have kent that a king, or a queen either, disna gang to bed wi' the crown on his head. He wad hang it over th' back o' a chair."—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Competitive Measles

Molly—My little sister's got measles.
Jimmie—Oh, so has mine.
Molly—Well, I'll bet my little sister's got more measles than yours has.—Answers.

Consistency

"What will I do," asked the anarchist orator, "if the police arrest me for denouncing the law as tyranny and oppression?"

"What will you do?" echoed his friend, "Why, lose no time in getting a good lawyer."

CUTS AND COSTS.

A little girl took her tiny brother to have his hair trimmed the other day, and when he was seated in the chair the barber asked his sister
what kind of a cut was desired.

"Please, mister," said the girl in a scared voice, "I'd like you to cut off
as much as you can for a quarter."

REASONABLE INQUIRY.

"What do you mean by an 'eight-day clock'?"

"One that will run eight days without winding."

"Huh, then, how long would it run
if you wound it?"—Lexington Leader.

His Method

Two negro men were discussing the eloquence of a certain member of the faculty of an educational institution for negroes in a Southern state.

"That Professor Briggs sure does like to use high soundin' words, don't he?" asked one of them.

"Maybe dat's jest an affection on his part," said the other dorky.

"Some folks do like to put on airs
in talkin'."

"No, I don't figure it out dat way," said the other. "I kinder thinks he uses dem big words because he's afraid dat if people knew what he was talkin' about they'd know he didn't know what he was talkin' about."—Harper's Magazine.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM

PARKS AND STREETS.
Santa Ana, Cal., Nov. 15, 1920.
To the Editor of the Santa Ana Daily Register.
Dear Sir:—

In Saturday's Register I found a very interesting report of the President Day club meeting and a summary of the address given by Frank
A. Miller of Riverside about street tree-planting. This matter has been brought before the public a good many times through the Register,
but always just a write-up and then no more. The reason of that is that it costs money to plant and care for trees. Nevertheless there are always a few good Samaritans who are willing to spend a few dollars for the beautifying of the city. Have you visited the new addition just south of the high school? Here all streets are uniform and the effect is most beautiful. Look at your neighbor, Fullerton. How well it looks with the uniform street plantings.

Such plantings and control as advocated by Mr. Miller will have to be under the supervision of someone acquainted with the nature of trees.
A good many trees are planted in the parkway—see for instance, avenues that are not fit to be planted in such a narrow strip, and still it is allowed. A good many permits are given for the removal of street trees, and a good many more ought to be given, in such a way as to amount to an order, to those who have dead trees in front of their places.

The talk has been going the rounds that we ought to have more parks
and have uniform street plantings, but under the present condition it is impossible, for the only money available for the city parks last year amounted to about $740, of which $390 went to this custodian, leaving only $440 for other purposes—just about enough to pay the upkeep of tools and repairs. We have a nice little park containing about 275 different shrubs and trees, and only one man to take care of it. At least two men are needed to make it look like it ought to. Inquiries are made daily as to why this or that is not done? Why we don't have some goldfish or something in place of that old lamp pole and bare cement? Why not some ornamental lights? Why not some cement walks instead of rock? Why not have that W. C. T.
U. fountain removed or fixed? Why not have someone to keep a hundred to hundred and fifty high school girls and a very few boys from cutting across the lawns? All because there is no money to improve or for labor required to keep it in good condition.

I know a few good citizens who are willing to "chip in," if there are enough others to make it worth while, to not only improve the parks
but for trees to improve our city.

Yours truly,
W. J. VANDER BRUGGEN,
Park Custodian.

IT'S GOOD TO REMEMBER.

That soap and chalk will remove mildew.
Salt used in sweeping carpets
will keep out moths.
Bread, cookies, cakes and pastry keep moist and fresh longer if put in stoneware jars.
Cream that is too thin to whip may be made to do so by the addition of an unbeaten white of egg.
Biscuits will be lighter and crisper if not allowed to touch
each other when baking.
A piece of paper over cake or bread that is baking will prevent it from browning too quickly.
The white of eggs will whip
much more readily if chilled, and if a pinch of salt has been added.
Muffins and gems will be lighter if baked in pans that have been thoroughly heated as well as greased.
Mistful little cockroaches can be killed by sprinkling around equal parts of plaster of paris,
flour and sugar.

SEEKING DEADLY WAR
GAS DESPITE LEAGUE

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Much adverse comment has been caused by the announcement at a scientific meeting that the war office had requested the universities to undertake research into the development of "its utmost extent of chemical warfare for both offensive and defensive purposes."
The question was raised by interrogation in the House of Commons asking, in effect, how the government reconciled this order with article 171 of the treaty of Versailles, under which the use of asphyxiating, poisonous or other gases and all analogous liquids, materials or devices is prohibited and whether investigations would be governed by similar declarations by the council of the League of Nations.

Premier Lloyd-George, replying, said as other countries could continue to develop this method of warfare the safety of the British fighting services would be seriously jeopardized by lack of similar developments
here.

First Ebbl Travelers
Guests at Luncheon

Mrs. H. C. Dawes was hostess yesterday at a one o'clock luncheon, entertaining the First Ebbl Travel
section, of which she is a member.
A glowing fire in the wide fireplace, and bowls of scarlet holly berries gave an air of holiday cheer to the living rooms in happy contrast to the gray skies outside.
A centerpiece of yellow chrysanthemums and autumn leaves gave a lovely bit of color to the luncheon
with autumn foliage marked the places for the following guests:
Mmes. George S. Smith, Stephen
Ross, J. P. Baumgartner, W. M.
Smart, T. E. Stephenson, J. W. Bish-

STUDENTS STRIKE AT HAZING RESOLUTION

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 16.—Refusing to accept a compromise agreement offered them by the board of visitors and governors of St. Johns College, relative to the hazing of freshmen, the sophomore class walked out in a body and was followed by the junior, senior and freshmen classes, about 250 students in all.

The trouble started a short time ago when the sophomore class drew up a resolution relative to hazing
and was ordered by the board to retract it by November 13 under pain of expulsion. The faculty and students have not made statements, but it has been learned unofficially that the students demand the appointment of a new board and a new commandant, it being a military college.
St. Johns is the third oldest college in the United States, having been founded in 1698 as King Williams' school. Francis Scott Key, author of "The Star Spangled Banner," was a graduate of the institution.

ARTIFICIAL CURING
OF FRUIT DEBATED

FRESNO, Nov. 16.—Two subsidiary organizations to the fruit growers and farmers' association held sessions here yesterday, the California Certified Seed Potato Growers and the dehydration advocates of the state. During the afternoon horticultural commissioners gathered for a session during which they discussed matters of administration of their departments.

"Discussions of the dehydration men centered around largely technical questions of curing fruit by artificial heat, in which advocates of both methods on sun drying as compared with evaporation.

Samples of various fruits which had passed through the dehydration process were on exhibit at the meeting.

During the course of an address on "Evaporation efficiency," Prof. A. W.
Christie, of the University of California Food products laboratory, pointed out the desirability of preventing loss from fire by constructing a fireproof dehydrator.

Christie told the fruit men that dehydrated fruits should be labeled and marketed as such, and should not be mixed or confused with sun-dried fruits to the detriment of both.
Unless this is done dehydrated fruits will not attract the attention they merit.

At their convention of the afternoon the seed potato men passed a resolution bringing to the attention of the state quarantine service the danger said to exist to California on account of the potato bug in Colorado. Discussions of the potato growers centered around standardization of the commercial pack, and lessons gained from observation of eastern methods.

YOUTHS CONFESS TO MANY BURGLARY JOBS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16.—John Miller and Elmer L. Reynolds, 18-year-old youths whom Detective Sergeants Shy and Mart arrested on suspicion of burglary, have confessed
they had committed a score of burglaries in this city and vicinity, according to the detectives. Both youths are held in the city jail.
Detective Shy stated he had identified $1500 worth of jewelry and clothing taken from the suspects as stolen from the residence of Fred Dixon, 520 Independence avenue, Southgate Gardens, several days ago.

The detectives expect to recover much more stolen property which they say the youths have disposed of.

The American of today realizes the profit value of overseas commerce
under the American flag.

PRINCETON FAVORED FOR PASADENA GAME

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16.—Out of the California-Stanford and U. S. C.
Oregon gridiron clashes next Saturday will emerge the team that will be chosen to represent the West in the annual football classic on New Year's day at Pasadena.

The Tournament of Roses football committee and sporting writers of Los Angeles and Pasadena met here last night, went over the football situation in the East and on the Pacific coast, and that was the opinion that prevailed.

As matters stand the University of California is the favorite. However, if the Southern California warriors batter the University of Oregon,
or pile up a huge score, a play-off contest between the Tojans and the Bears will be in order, it was agreed.

Princeton admittedly is the most likely representative of the East.
Harvard's record is almost as good,
but it was pointed out that Harvard would hardly consider coming back two years in a row. Yale has been beaten so it seems assured that the wonderful Princeton machine will get the call.

Invitations to the Tournament of Roses game are to be sent on Thursday to the teams selected.

WON'T BE ARBITRARY IN ZONING OF CITY

LONG BEACH, Nov. 16.—City zoning will not be attempted on arbitrary lines in Long Beach, said Eugene E. Tinscher, president of the planning commission, after an executive session of the board at which this subject was discussed. Members of the commission spent yesterday afternoon on a rapid survey of residential, business and industrial sections. George A. Damon accompanied the party.

No conclusions were reached. The successes and failures of other communities along these lines were reviewed and it was found that where planning has not made good progress the trouble may be traced to lack of co-operation with the public. The board will endeavor to avoid this pitfall, by asking the assistance of all property owners.

The immediate problem is recognized as protection of residence districts, including apartments and flats, against unwise intrusion of business enterprises in conflict with home areas.

Long Beach is a distinctive city, and rules applicable to other points cannot be adopted here with assurance of success.

Whether to do the zoning by ordinance, or to leave the power in the hands of an official or department, are points that have not yet been settled. There is no desire, said Tinscher, to hamper either business or home development, but to provide some system that will help and protect both.

METHODISTS BREAK MISSIONARY RECORD

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—The largest number of new missionaries ever sent to foreign fields in any one year in the history of the Methodist Episcopal church were sent during the fiscal year ending Nov. 1, 1920, according to an announcement by Bishop A. W. Leonard.

The previous year was 1917, when 96 recruits were appointed and sent out by the Methodists.

During the fiscal year just concluded, 275 new missionaries were appointed, of which 80 were assigned to South America, 69 to China, 50 to India and Burma, 20 to Africa, 30 to Maylandia, 6 to Mexico, 5 to Japan, 2 to Korea and 2 to Europe. The list does not include relief workers in European war areas.

A majority of the new appointees have already reached their stations. According to statistics they are classified as follows: 100 evangelists, 99 educational, 41 medical and 36 industrial. The 1920 increase marks the first year of the five-year Centenary program of the Methodists, which includes the expenditure of $15,000,000 in war reconstruction and general expansion of church activities.

RENO, Nev., Nov. 16.—According to the November crop report, the yield of potatoes is estimated at 172 bushels per acre, against 150 bushels for last year. The total production for the year is estimated at 1,032,000 bushels, or 132,000 bushels more than in 1919. No official action was taken on the resignation until Sunday at the morning services when the congregation voted to reject the resignation and Mr. Perry will continue to officiate as pastor of the local church.

The above action was taken after a petition had been circulated by members of the church who desired that Mr. Perry remain as pastor, the petition being signed by 219 members of the church. This is a large majority of the membership which was given at the last church board meeting as 298, many of whom however, are non-residents.

POPULAR BEACH BOY CALLED BY DEATH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 16.—Saturday morning the city of Huntington Beach was shocked to hear of the death of one of the most beloved boys in the city, John Adair, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Adair, Fifth street.

Four years ago the family came to Huntington Beach for the benefit of the young man's health. Here he continued to improve and it was thought he would recover entirely. Wednesday he attended high school as usual. On Thursday he was not feeling well, but until the last he was not thought to be in danger. At 12 o'clock Friday evening the tired heart ceased to beat and the spirit of the loved one passed peacefully to the heavenly home.

John Clothier Adair was born in Taos, New Mexico, nineteen years ago last June. He was a member of the Senior class of the Huntington Beach high school. He leaves to mourn his loss the mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. William Adair, six brothers and one sister.

The funeral was held from the Catholic church Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. Reverend Father Louis Philippe Genest officiating. A beautiful song service was given by Rev. Genest and Rev. Bois. On Monday morning high mass was celebrated.

The young man was one of the favorites at the high school, and with the young men of the city was always thinking of others. He was a very bright student, standing high in all lines. He has but closed the book of life and gone to that school where he no longer needs our help, but Christ rules.

"He walks with thee, the angel kind And gently whispers, he resigned. Bear up, bear on, the end shall tell. The Dear Lord ordereth all things well."

Southern California

FILLMORE—The Fillmore Citrus Fruit Association is to build forty houses for its Mexican help and ten or twelve for its other employees. These, however, are all located outside the city limits. The Fillmore Chamber of Commerce has just appointed a housing committee to study the problem from all angles.

SANTA BARBARA—Sixty thousand steelhead trout have been planted in the Santa Ynez river by Game Warden Ables, according to word received at the forestry office recently. The fry came from the State hatchery at Sisson.

SAN BERNARDINO—More men have applied for work in the shops and roundhouse at San Bernardino during the past month than during the entire nine months of the year, according to statements of Santa Fe railroad office employees in San Bernardino. The winter rush to California has apparently brought more working men than tourists so far.

LONG BEACH—The world's record for attendance at a men's Sunday school class is claimed by the Taubman Bible class of the First Christian church, following the meeting this week, when 1,676 men were present. In a survey of the large Bible classes of the country, recently, the "Adult Bible Class," a Canton, O., publication, declared the Taubman class the largest of its kind in the world on a basis of average attendance. During October it maintained an average of 912.

EL CENTRO—The date of the conference of the Coachella and Imperial Valleys water users with Reclamation Chief Arthur Davis of Washington has been changed from Monday, November 22, to Tuesday, November 23, at the request of the Coachella people.

LOS ANGELES—Squads of policemen have been ordered to patrol the residential districts in light automobiles to capture, if possible, the lone bandit who has been holding up pedestrians and automobile drivers homeward bound at late hours. Four victims of the highwayman reported losses to the officers yesterday.

REDLANDS—Yucalpa apple growers, who are members of the association, have just received $10,000 as first distribution of returns for the apple crop. This is only a preliminary payment to cover picking and packing expenses on the early varieties, the larger part of the crop having just been handled and the returns are not yet complete. The later varieties are just being picked and in the Oak Glen district the picking is in its rush season.

REDLANDS—Fred J. Kreitt, a rancher in Perris Valley, was in Redlands seeking cotton pickers to help handle the crop in the valley. Kreitt says that the Perris ranchers who were induced to plant cotton this season feel well repaid, that their crop is excellent, but that they are finding difficulty in getting pickers. He thinks that the acreage will be extended next year.

EL SEGUNDO—Half a million dollars has been spent by the Standard Oil company on a separator plant to cure the sewage of the great oil refinery here. The separator is practically completed and will be connected by a tunnel and wharf with the ocean, into which the absolutely purified waste water and sewage of every kind will be dumped.

FULLERTON PLANS FOR FINE BASEBALL PARK

FULLERTON, Nov. 16.—Fullerton will have a ball park and a high class team to represent the city next year as the result of a lease being secured by Paul Price, Glenn Callan and Roy Clark on a tract of ground on the other side of the Santa Fe tracks, known as the Herman L. Witt tract.

A grandstand will be erected and the park will be made one of the finest in this section of the state.

There is some of the best baseball talent in Southern California in Fullerton and others may be imported if necessary. One of the best advertisements a community can have is a baseball team and Fullerton will have the best to be found if possible. Anaheim got more advertising from their baseball team last season than from any other source and most of the players on the team were Fullerton boys, there being no baseball nine here.

MAN ARRESTED IS GLAD IT HAPPENED

FULLERTON, Nov. 16.—"I'm the man you are looking for and I'm glad you got me; I am tired of running away," said Francis R. Denison when City Marshal Myers showed him a telegram from the chief of police of Worcester, Mass., asking that Denison be placed under arrest and held pending the arrival of an officer from the Massachusetts city.

Denison was placed in the city jail to await the arrival of the officer and states that he will return to Worcester without requisition to stand trial on the charge of robbery.

The arrest of Denison brings to an end a two year search for him by officers throughout the United States, on the alleged charge of larceny of $10,000 from the Isaac Purdy company of Spencer, Mass., and $2,900 from the Park Trust company of Worcester, Mass., the arrest being a great credit to City Marshal Myers, who spotted Denison from a description received shortly after the alleged robberies were reported.

Denison has been employed for some time past by the Fullerton Oil company as gauger and was popular with a large number of people, both in this city and Brea, his arrest being a surprise and a shock to them.

Myers saw Denison frequently in Fullerton and he looked familiar but Myers could not place him. Recently in looking through his album of "wanted men" he came across a description of Denison together with a list of crimes with which he is charged. To make sure that Denison was the man wanted, he got in touch with the Burns Detective agency in Los Angeles, who had a picture of Denison. One of the detectives came here bringing the picture and he was taken to the Fullerton Oil company lease and introduced to Denison by Myers as a friend looking for a job.

INSURANCE RULING IN SUICIDE CASES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The United States supreme court holds that life insurance companies are responsible for payment of policies in the event of death of the insured by suicide after a time exemption period has passed. The decision was rendered by Associate Justice Holmes in answering a series of questions from the federal court of Vermont which contested such payment under the provisions of a two-year anti-suicide clause in its policy.

SAN JOSE MASONS PLANNING NEW HOME

SAN JOSE, Nov. 16.—Consideration of tentative plans for a new Scottish Rite Temple for this city, the structure to be erected at Third and St. James streets and to cost in the neighborhood of $200,000, held the interest of members at the autumn reunion of the co-ordinate bodies of Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Free Masonry at a recent meeting.

The plans call for a two-story building on the property recently purchased by the order; the building to include lodgerooms, cardrooms, stage mezzanine floor, banquet hall and an auditorium large enough to accommodate 1000 persons.

Beginners' class meets Monday and Thursday at 7 p. m., at home of Mrs. Olive Lopez, 519 West Fifth. Terms $4 for eight lessons, in advance.

COUNTY EXCHANGE BUYS BUILDING LOT

ORANGE, Nov. 16.—The Orange County Fruit Exchange has purchased a building lot at the corner of South Glassell streets and Almond avenue from C. B. Bradshaw.

The property is a 40-foot frontage on Glassell street and 111 frontage on Almond. Its location is considered to be one of the best in the business district.

The Exchange, it is announced, has no immediate plans for building on the property but anticipates a future necessity for larger quarters. When occasion requires a building, the site will be available.

The rapidly growing business of the Exchange has made the present quarters somewhat crowded. It is felt that a new building affording better fire protection for the records of the office will be desirable in the future.

BEAN CONTRACT CASE HEARING IS STARTED

The hearing of the suit brought by Henry Winters against the C. C. Collins company, by which Winters is attempting to collect $2799.76, alleged to be due him under a contract made in 1918 for the sale of all the beans from his ranch to the Collins company, for 11 1/2 cents per pound, was in progress today in the court of Superior Judge Z. B. West.

The defendant company alleges that the beans were of the best quality. The contention of Winters is that the Collins company refused to pay the specified price because the price of beans went down.

Winters is represented by Attorneys Clyde Bishop and F. O. Daniel. The Collins company is represented by Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus.

STUDYING GEOLOGY AS AN AID IN WAR

Modern scientific warfare compels an army to seek every possible advantage by making full use of all sources of information about the physical conditions within the theater of operations. Of two opposing armies the one having the better knowledge of the terrain will have an advantage—at times a decisive advantage. A complete knowledge of the terrain is, however, possible only by the use of geology.

The principal applications of geology to military problems are as follows:

(1) The determination of water resources, both underground and surface, at the front and along the line of communication.

(2) The determination of the physical character of soil, subsoil and bedrock, and the presence or absence of underground water, with relation to their effect on fieldworks, including trenches, dugouts and mines.

(3) The distribution, occurrence, and quantity of road metal, ballast, and material for concrete.

(4) The determination of the physical character of soil and subsoil during wet and dry seasons, with relation to its influence on the movement of large bodies of troops and of artillery and tanks.

Practically all uses of geology fall within the above general classification. It is evident that any engineering project involving extensive excavation may call for geologic knowledge. It is evident, too, that the sanitation of camps and cantonments must take cognizance of the underground drainage conditions as well as of water supply and surface formations. It has been found that certain geologic conditions, by furnishing good electric transmission, favor the use of the listening devices that were extensively used during the period of trench warfare in the World War.

Through the application of geology to war seems to be almost self-evident, it was not recognized prior to the outbreak of hostilities in Europe. The utility of the science to an army in the field soon became evident, however, and before the end of the war nearly all of the great powers had organized geologic staffs.

A staff of 15 geologic engineer officers had been authorized for the American Expeditionary Force, of whom 11 had been inducted into the service in France.

Information regarding the use of geology in war and the development of geologic staffs in the several armies in the World War has been summarized in a report entitled "The Use of Geology on the Western Front," by Alfred H. Brooks, formerly lieutenant colonel of engineers and chief geologist of the American Expeditionary Force. This report has been published by the United States Department of the Interior, as Professional Paper 128-D.

The A. B. C. of Conservation

From a Paper by Mrs. J. E. Gowen, of this City, Read before the Federated Women's Clubs of El Centro.

Conservation is a term simple and plain enough, but not always understood and interpreted correctly. To conserve does not merely mean to save—it also means to utilize. Indeed, some forms of conservation consist entirely in utilization. As for instance, water power. Water power can only be conserved by being used except, of course, in the sense of conserving for the public good as against permitting the resources of water power to pass into private ownership for profit. Water power may be in a sense conserved for the public good, without being immediately utilized, by withholding it from private ownership. This form of negative conservation, however, may be very poor public policy.

When we think of conservation intelligently, we think of hydro-electric energy, irrigation, land fertility, timber and other great natural resources which in a sense belong to all the people, and should be so conserved and utilized as to serve all the people without undue profit to those who may engage in their development and distribution.

Perhaps water power and irrigation, which are closely linked together, are the material resources in which Southern California is most vitally interested. There is at present a shortage of both hydro-electric energy and irrigation water. Here in Southern California, at least, we have about reached the limit of our resources in irrigation water, without conserving to a larger extent than we now do—the enormous quantity of flood water that flows annually to the sea, frequently causing great damage in its passage, and carrying with it much of the fertility of our foothills and mesa lands especially, and to some extent of all our lands. We are also short of hydro-electric energy. To develop electric power by the use of coal and fuel oil, with millions of water power going to waste, is little short of economic suicide. In the mountains of California are five hundred million H. P. of undeveloped and unutilized water power. Enough water flows into the ocean during the rainy season from such streams as the Sacramento, Merced, Kern, San Joaquin, San Gabriel, Santa Ana and Colorado rivers to irrigate every foot of tillable land in the state many times over. Nearly all—or certainly as much as could be practically and profitably utilized—of this water power and irrigating water can not only be made available for the development of the state's resources, but it can also be prevented from doing the enormous amount of damage the state now sustains through floods and erosion. And to a large extent the same works by which the water power would be developed would make the water available for irrigation; and in no instance would the development and utilization of the water power reduce to any appreciable extent the volume of water available for irrigation.

Some of the possible water power and irrigation water development and conservation can be done—and to a very limited extent is being done—by private enterprises; but much of it, like that appertaining to the Colorado river, involves such tremendous investment of capital that it can only be undertaken by the state or the nation, or by the state and nation in co-operation. This is true also of some of the larger projects on some of the other rivers.

As a concrete example of the conservation of irrigation water on a small scale, may be cited the work done right here at home by the Tri-counties Reforestation Association, composed of enterprising and far-sighted men of Riverside, San Bernardino and Orange counties. This association is seeking to prevent the destruction of the forest and undergrowth on the slopes of the San Bernardino mountains which feed the Santa Ana river, and to reforest those areas where the growth has been destroyed by fire or otherwise. Without vegetation on these slopes, the rainfall and snow water rushes precipitately into the river, stripping the mountain sides of the soil and causing great floods which do much damage; whereas if the mountain sides were thickly covered with vegetation on the surface of the ground, the water would be held to a large extent, causing it to sink into the ground and ultimately find its way into the irrigating ditches of Orange county and the other counties from our underground streams and wells. A more concrete example of primitive conservation of irrigation water is found in the work being done for the Reforestation Association in the way of building diverting dams—that is, turning the flood waters from the river bed into gravel basins where it sinks into the ground and raises the water level of the valleys below. Enough of this work has been done to prove conclusively that it is entirely practicable and profitable to conserve water in this way.

Going back for a moment to conservation in this larger aspect, when we think of timber we must think of houses and furniture and fence posts and railroad ties, and these things through their various ramifications bring the problem home to every individual. So it is with hydro-electric power. The cost of running each electric motor, every electric light and vacuum cleaner and iron is influenced to the good or to the bad, as we do or do not develop and utilize our immense stores of water power. And of course we can all see how the cost of irrigation water and the amplitude of its supply affects the material welfare of each citizen.

Indeed any considerable further development and growth of horticulture and agriculture in Southern California is impossible without the development and utilization on a large scale of our water power and irrigation water resources in the mountains. And of course a check in the development of our horticulture and agriculture resources means a check to everything.

IRVINE CYCLIST DIES AS TRUCK HITS HIM

A certificate of accidental death was expected to be signed today by the coroner of Los Angeles county in the case of Arthur J. Kleinmeyer, 25, a blacksmith, employed by the Irvine company, who was instantly killed last night at the intersection of San Fernando boulevard and Verdugo road, when he ran his motorcycle in front of a truck driven by George Plath of San Fernando.

According to Plath, Kleinmeyer became confused and drove his motorcycle directly into the path of the truck. According to witnesses, Plath made every effort to avoid the collision. The wet pavements made it impossible for him to stop his truck in time to avoid the accident. The wheels of the truck passed over Kleinmeyer's chest.

Witnesses declared that Plath was in no way at fault and he was not detained by officers.

Kleinmeyer has been employed at the ranch house of the Irvine company for the past year. Saturday evening, following a short vacation spent in Los Angeles, he telephoned the company he would return to work today.

Kleinmeyer's parents reside in Iowa, but their address is not known here. He is believed to have a sister living at 333 West Colorado boulevard, Eagle Rock, or North Baymeist avenue, Los Angeles. Kleinmeyer gave the addresses to the Irvine company for notification, in case of accident, but did not state the relationship of the parties living there.

POMONA GOVERNMENT COST GROWTH SHOWN

POMONA, Nov. 12.—The cost of Pomona's city government has increased no less than 1250 per cent since its incorporation in 1888, according to figures worked out by Bert Leigh, deputy city clerk and auditor. The cost of government for the last fiscal year, according to the annual report, was $175,596.85, including about $11,000 payment on funded debts and refunds. The total income for the city from all sources in the first year of its incorporation was only about $13,000, according to Mr. Leigh.

NO TALKING, PLEASE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Hereafter any laborer employed in the State, War and Navy Department Building who talks to anyone during his working hours, except regarding official business, will be penalized. The penalty for the first infraction of the rule was fixed as the loss of one day's pay and for the subsequent offenses such punishment as the circumstances warrant.

SPECIAL AD TAX NOT LIKELY TO BE INCREASED

The proposition coming from the Realty board, that the proposed city charter provide for a special tax of 1½ mills on the dollar for community advertising purposes, appears to be permanently sidetracked. It was made a special order of business for last night's meeting of the freeholders, and after brief discussion a motion to "postpone action" was unanimously adopted. More than one member of the board wanted to "vote it down and be done with it." But a majority thought it better to "just let it ride—it can do no harm—and if we want to take it up later we can do so."

Two objections to the proposed tax were offered. One was that it should not be made a rider for the charter—a rider that might ride the charter to a fall, but should be taken up with the council after the adoption of the charter. The other was that, with the $5000 or more advertising fund already provided by the charter, added to the largely increased revenues of the Chamber of Commerce, incident to the recent membership drive and increase of dues, enough money would be available for advertising purposes.

Discuss Tax Limit.

Another tax matter of importance was considered when, in reading the draft of the charter, the section fixing the tax limit was reached. It was plainly the disposition of the board not to raise the present dollar limit if enough revenue could be secured without doing so. Attention was called to the fact that the last assessment of city property by the county assessor showed considerable increase in valuations, ranging in many instances from 30 per cent to 50 per cent, and the conclusion was drawn that such increase would, without raising the dollar limit of the tax rate, raise ample revenue for the requirements of the city.

Special Order of Business.

The result of the discussion was that the tax rate to be fixed by the charter was made a special order for the next meeting of the board—Friday night of this week—and that the city clerk and finance committee of the city trustees, and the county auditor and county assessor be asked to attend the meeting and give information and advice.

Most of the time of last night's meeting was devoted to the reading of the charter, preparatory to its tentative approval before passing it on to the city's special attorney for legal and technical revision.

WOMAN LOSES FIGHT FOR DIVORCE FROM HELPLESS HUSBAND

VENTURA, Nov. 12.—Although he is paralyzed and helpless, she said he was cruel to her.

That was why Mrs. Gabriel Yauch of Oxnard sought through seven years of litigation, first in San Diego and then in Ventura, to gain her freedom.

She protested that his friends influenced him against transferring his property to her. He was said to be worth $400,000.

Five times she left him, she said, because he would not give her enough money to live on. Each time there was a reconciliation and the transfer of funds. Each time she returned to her paralytic husband and wheeled him about in his invalid's chair.

Now court action has sent her back to him finally, unless an appeal is made. Judge Rogers of Ventura refused to grant the divorce.

GLENDALÉ NOW HAS GIRL SCOUT TROOP

GLENDALÉ, Nov. 12.—The first troop of Girl Scouts in Glendale has just been organized under the leadership of Miss Gladys Sharpe, instructor of English in the intermediate school. The girls made their first public appearance in the parade on Armistice day. The charter members are Mary Stanley, Ruth Dana, Lucile Allen, Amy Bainbridge, Margaret Longly, Katherine Stoff, Linda Borthick, Cecil Chase, Sarah Chandler, Margaret Brown, Winifred Parker and Carita Walker. Four others are now taking the tenderfoot tests, and will soon be admitted, when the troop will be complete.

'DRY' LEADER WINS PRIZE FOR BEST WINE

LYKENS, Pa., Nov. 12.—With a record of years as an active Prohibitionist, J. M. Boyer finds that he has been awarded the prize for the best fair for the best homemade wine. This year the wine on exhibit had to be strictly within the provisions of the eighteenth amendment. Nevertheless, Boyer says, he has never made wine of any sort much less win a prize for his ability.

Boyer has protested to Harry Smith, president of the fair association. It is believed an error was made in transcribing the names.

DRIVE FOR BOOKS IS BEGUN HERE BY ELKS' TROOP OF BOY SCOUTS

With the purpose of accumulating a library of books suitable for boys, members of the Elks' Boy Scout troop have instituted a book gathering campaign.

The boys have already obtained a considerable number of books, which are passed around among the members of the troop. Each boy may keep a book for one week. He may get the book at the meeting of the troop Friday night and must return it at the next Friday night meeting or keep it until the next meeting at the rate of a cent a day assessed as a fine.

The boys are making good use of the books thus far secured. Anyone who would like to help them out with the donation of a book may leave it at Elks' hall, or call Scout Master W. McKay, Phone 788-R, and a scout will call for it.

RECORD CROWD FOR BIG COAST BATTLE

BERKELEY, Cal. Nov. 12.—The largest crowd that ever saw a California-Stanford football game already has paid into the coffers of the two schools the biggest price ever paid for such a game, as its share of the preparations for Saturday's contest.

Every seat in California Field has been sold. The only way to get a ticket now is to cross the palm of some fortunate or unscrupulous individual or inherit one. While there are stories of ticket scalping going around, those in charge of the arrangements say they are doing all possible to prevent any abuses.

A total of 27,000 tickets has been sold bringing $75,000 as the gate receipts, according to figures given out by Graduate Manager Lute Nichols of California.

The best previous attendance record at a California-Stanford game was 24,000 at the last rugby contest which was played in 1914 at California Field. That crowd paid $60,000 for its afternoon fun.

WILL PUT TEETH IN IMMIGRATION LAW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Preliminary work on the most drastic immigration law ever proposed in the United States has been started by the house committee on immigration, of which Representative Albert Johnson of Washington is chairman. Under its provisions the admission of foreigners will be restricted to the parents and children of alien born citizens of the United States. All persons beyond this zone of blood relationship will be forbidden to enter. Five members of the committee, Chairman Johnson, Isaac Siegel of New York, Harold Knutson, Minnesota; John C. Box, Texas, and B. F. Welty, Ohio, are making a close study of conditions in Detroit, where it is stated the large influx of immigrants has resulted in a great increase among the unemployed. It is the purpose of the committee, Chairman Johnson said, to make immigration restrictions as rigorous as possible.

D'ANNUNZIO URGES PEOPLE TO REBEL OVER NEW TREATY

ROME, Nov. 16.—Cabielle D'Annunzio was reported variously today on land, sea and in the air.

The fiery poet was reported furiously piloting an airplane from point to point on the Dalmatian coast exhorting troops and urging populations to repudiate the Italo-Yugo Slav agreement on the Adriatic question.

It was also reported D'Annunzio had boarded the cruiser Nulito to meet Admiral Millo somewhere off the coast. Millo was implicated recently in charges that D'Annunzio was negotiating with the Russian government for financial support.

The poet's troops, who occupied Suszak were reported to have returned to Fiume. They announced that Italian troops garrisoning the city refused to fraternize with them, making permanent occupation impossible.

WILL PROVIDES FOR MANY YEARS' GIFTS

Mrs. Caroline Wiesseman of Santa Ana died recently, yet her grandchildren will receive gifts from her for many years to come, under the terms of her will, which was filed today in the superior court. When her grandchildren, the children of her five sons and daughters, are married, each is to receive a wedding present from her, to be purchased for them by her executor, from a fund of $50 apiece, which she has set aside for this purpose, in her will. Should any of the grandchildren remain unmarried, they are to receive the $50 just the same, either in cash or converted into a gift as they choose.

The estate of the late Mrs. Wiesseman is estimated at $28,000. Of this amount, the widow of her deceased husband's brother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wiesseman, is to receive an undivided eleventh of the estate for "the loving care she gave to my son during his long illness." The five children, who receive the rest of the estate, are to receive an undivided two-elevenths each, share and share alike.

Two sons, Charles H. and Frank W. Wiesseman, are named as executors of the will. Charles H. Wiesseman, however, lives in Buffalo, New York, and hence has filed a request in the Superior court asking that he be excused from serving. Frank W. Wiesseman resides in Santa Ana. The other children are: Mrs. Katherine M. Henry, Ontario; Mrs. Emma L. Opp, Santa Ana, and Mrs. Clarence E. Prange, Santa Ana. The petition for probate was filed by Frank W. Wiesseman, through his attorney, S. M. Davis.

TO SELL MEMBERSHIPS

From $25,000 to $30,000
Estimated Cost of New Site, Is Announced

A new site by the first of April and a new building and equipment before the end of next year is the ambition of the trustees of the Santa Ana Community hospital. Initial steps to produce the desired results were taken at a recent meeting of the board.

The board is composed of Judge Z. B. West, president; E. B. Collier, vice president; Rev. Otto S. Russell, treasurer, and Mrs. Julia E. Saunby, secretary. Rev. Russell was appointed a member of the board upon recommendation of the Ministerial Union to succeed Rev. A. T. O'Rear, who has moved to Oakland.

The first step in the plans of the trustees will be to raise a fund for the purchase of the site. The amount will be between $25,000 and $30,000. A membership campaign with annual memberships at $5 and life memberships at $100, is proposed as the means for raising the fund. The date for the campaign has been set for January 9, 1921.

In the meantime, it is proposed to proceed informally with the work of obtaining memberships. The trustees have declared that if they do not obtain at least 200 members before the date set for the opening of the formal drive they will be greatly surprised, not to say disappointed.

To Name Drive Teams
The new members will be called together and asked to name six additional trustees for the board. Following this, organization for the campaign will be effected by the selection of a number of teams to do the work. The drive will be under the direct supervision of the trustees.

Plans for financing the erection and equipment of a new building have not yet been worked out, but the trustees are absolutely confident that the solution of the problem will be offered and that the movement to make the proposed hospital a reality will be successful.

The board has no particular site in view. It desires a location somewhat further removed from the business section and absolutely free from the objections of the present location. The hospital is near the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe tracks and the noise of passing trains is annoying to patients, nurses and physicians.

GLOBE TROTTER, 70,
BACK FROM ORIENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—A 70-year-old globe trotter who spends all his time in travel on steamers and express trains unassisted by either friends or relations, arrived in San Francisco from Sydney, Australia, on the steamer Sonoma. He is J. E. Cook, a retired Pittsburg, Pa., real estate man.

Cook began to travel in 1910 when his wife died. Since then he has girdled the globe several times. He was a passenger on the steamer New York when that vessel managed to limp into Manhattan after being rammed by the Pretoria, 400 miles from shore, in 1914. He was in Europe just before the war broke out.

SLOW SPEED RECORD
SHATTERED AT MECCA

MECCA, Nov. 16.—All records for lack of speed in this part of the state have been shattered. A giant Lakewood gas powered paving machine, weighing 19,500 pounds, yesterday arrived at the road construction camp near here from Mecca, a distance of eleven miles. The road machine "made it" in three days.

BEST MAN STRICKEN
BLIND AT WEDDING

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Nov. 16.—Stricken suddenly blind while acting as best man at a wedding, William Allison concealed the fact and calmly went through his part of the ceremony. He collapsed when it was over and was treated by eye specialists, who stated that he was totally blind and would probably not regain his eyesight.

Mrs. Dorsey to Tell How Teachers' League
Can Help the Schools

"How a Teachers' League Can Help the Schools" will be discussed by Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, superintendent of schools of the city of Los Angeles, at the First Congregational church tomorrow evening, beginning at 7:45 o'clock.

Members of the Santa Ana City Teachers' league, under whose auspices Mrs. Dorsey will speak here, are desirous that the public attend. In the course of her address, Mrs. Dorsey will discuss many topics of supreme importance to all those who are interested in educational progress. Mrs. Dorsey has a wide reputation as a speaker and it is believed the attendance at tomorrow night's meeting will be large. The Girls' Glee club of the Santa Ana high school is to have a place on the program.

FRENCH GIRLS CAN'T DRESS, SAYS CHICAGOAN

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—"French girls don't know how to dress and not only that—"

The speaker was Mrs. W. E. Clow Jr., who with her husband, a wealthy resident of Lake Forest, arrived in Chicago recently. They had been in Europe all summer.

"Wanted to vote," explained Mrs. Clow Jr. "And it's worth the trip. 'French girls? Oh, yes—they're supposed to know all about clothes and how to wear them. But they don't.'"

"American women know much more about dressing attractively. Mrs. Clow was asked a question. 'Yes, they do wear them short. But that doesn't help them much. There is no patent on short skirts.'"

"The French, I found, are—what shall I say?—oh, they're comfortable. It's the spirit you get when you meet them—just comfort."

"Food is cheaper—possibly one-tenth of what it is in Chicago," Mrs. Clow said. The reporter, "what do you think of—"

"Pardone me while I answer the phone," said Mrs. Clow.

CHEMISTS SEARCH FOR GASOLINE SUBSTITUTE

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 16.—Chemists at the University of California are not on the trail of something that will take the place of gasoline. "A gasoline substitute must be found that will be more successful and practical than any of the substitutes thus far advanced," according to Prof. W. O'Neill of the university of California department of chemistry.

"It is only through chemistry that such a substitute can be found and it is well known to chemists that no substitute now in use will ever supply the demand."

Professor O'Neill sees some hope in the use of shale oil. Shale, instead of being a source of petroleum, is in connection with that process M. J. Garvin, of the federal bureau of mines now is investigating the shale beds of Utah, Wyoming and Nevada. His research, it is expected, will take a period of years.

CAN'T GET TEACHERS,
SCHOOLS CLOSE DOORS

BILLINGS, Mont., Nov. 16.—Twenty rural schools with an enrollment of about 300 pupils will remain closed indefinitely on account of the lack of teachers, according to Superintendent F. Miller. This is a forceful illustration of the dearth of teachers in the Western states, according to school officials.

The small pay allowed teachers in the rural districts and the fact that many of them are taking advanced work in the seats of learning in this city is given as one reason for this condition.

SANTA CRUZ, Nov. 16.—Mrs. Mary F. Pearson, sister of Mrs. Francis J. Heney of San Francisco, died at her home here. She was a member of a pioneer family, her father, the late John Swinford, being an early settler. Mrs. Pearson was born at Lawrence, Santa Clara county, sixty-two years ago. Besides her husband, John W. Pearson, she leaves two children, Mrs. Carolyn Gable and John Hudson, and two sisters, Mrs. Francis J. Heney and Mrs. Louis Swain.

OWN SCENARIO
BEING 'SHOT' DASSINETS ARE POPULAR NOWMovie Folk Spoil Author's Duck Hunting; However,
He Is Enlightened

If you were a scenario writer, went duck hunting, found a motion picture company on location, spoiling your morning's sport, and you "cussed" the company, only to find out later that it was your own scenario that was being filmed—

Wouldn't it make you feel at least a trifle flabbergasted?

It happened to Stephen Chalmers, author and scenario writer, who calls Santa Ana his home, but who spends the greater part of his time at Arch Beach.

Next to concocting plots for motion picture plays, Chalmers likes nothing so well as hunting. He hied himself to Aliso canyon one recent morning and concealed himself at a point which experience had taught him might be favored by a number of ducks on the wing.

Chalmers waited and waited. No ducks. The nimrod-author began to fidget. Then he decided to investigate. He walked toward the mouth of the canyon and soon found the source of the trouble. There, on the beach, was a group of motion picture actors, whose presence, naturally, caused whatever ducks there may have been in the vicinity to remain snugly under cover.

Begins to "Cuss."
It was then that Chalmers began to indulge in certain language which has been described as having the quality of making the circumambient atmosphere turn a pronounced indigo in hue. The phrases employed by Chalmers are not of record. Even if they were they probably could not be included in this story, this being strictly a family journal.

At any rate, his morning's hunting spoiled. Chalmers decided to engage the thespians in converse. The first actor he approached, however, was extremely uncommunicative. So Chalmers accosted the director.

"What's the name of the picture?" Chalmers inquired, cautiously.

The director paused for a moment in his labor of showing Louise Lovely the correct way to appear nonchalant after being rescued from the surf by the leading man—rescue stuff has a large part in the movie in question.

"Partners of Fate," said the director.

Wit Chalmers said thereupon is also unrecorded. The chances are that he said nothing, for the scenario for "Partners of Fate" is Chalmers' own work.

The picture is being produced by William Fox.

It Actually Happened.
This story of Chalmers' spoiled duck shooting sounds, of course, considerably like pure press agent work. However, while it does have a certain amount of value as publicity, this is unavoidable, for it actually happened.

Chalmers for some years was in newspaper work in New York City, breaking his way to go into fiction. He has written a number of books, as well as a considerable number of short stories and scenarios. He is one of the founders of the Robert Louis Stevenson club, New York, and is a member of the Scribblers' club, Los Angeles.

LOVE CHARM VANISHES
IN NINE SHORT DAYS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—For nine years Lawrence Ferchette, a contractor, courted his wife, Grace, and then in nine days of marriage he learned that he had never known her. He was granted a divorce by Judge Morgan.

"For nine years she was my sweetest heart," said Ferchette. "We were almost constantly together and I believed her to be the sweetest and most gentle person in all the world."

"In less than nine days after our marriage I had found that she had the worst temper of any person I had ever known and was so disagreeable and quarrelsome that life together was utterly impossible."

"Unfortunately that is the experience of all too many people," said the court. "During courtship most of us always have on our company manners. No man or woman can know each other until they have been married for a while."

DELAY COMPLETION OF GIANT WARSHIP

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Officials of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation stated that they were advised by the navy department that the new superdreadnaught California would not be ready to enter the Hunter's Point dry dock until November 23. The battleship had been originally ordered to the dry dock Wednesday.

No announcement was made in connection with the delay, officials of the Bethlehem plant stating that they were ready to receive the craft.

Divers have been working on the California at Mare Island to ascertain the amount of cribbing remaining on the hull that will have to be removed when the vessel is in dry dock.

Seven tugs will be used to tow the vessel here under a contract with the Peterson Launch and Tugboat Company, and tugs from the Ralph Navigation and Coal company.

It is expected that the vessel will start in tow of the tugs from Mare Island at 3 o'clock in the morning and enter the dry dock at slack water, seven hours later.

Do you remember when you were a baby?—no, of course you don't. Well then, did you ever see, up in the attic or out in the woodshed, a box with two, perhaps three, barrel-staves nailed to the bottom to act as rockers?

Most mothers could tell how, when we were still unable to walk, the old box-cradle was to us a little world all in itself.

There we spent most of our days, sleeping hour after hour or playing with the toys that were handed to us, while mother did the washing, the sweeping, the canning or one of the hundred other things housewives did for themselves in those days.

Occasionally, if we were peevish, mother stopped to rock the old box-cradle until we went to sleep. Mostly, however, mothers in those days didn't have time to do much rocking, and, if they did, it was with one foot, while both hands were busy mending dad's socks.

But the cradle days are passed. In one Santa Ana furniture store, where a Register reporter inquired if he might look at the cradles, the clerk scratched his head while he tried to recall what the word "cradle" meant.

Thing of the Past
"Cradle—cradle—Oh, yes, now I know. I'm sorry, but we don't keep them. If you will step this way, though, I will show you the latest styles in bassinets, baby cribs, buggies, go-carts, baby-walkers and perambulators."

"Cradles are a thing of the past," another furniture dealer said. "We haven't had an inquiry for one since I can remember."

"Yes, we have two that I would be glad to show you," yet another dealer told the reporter. However, it developed these two cradles were not being kept because of a demand for them, but rather because there was not a demand. "I got those two cradles over in Fullerton more than a year ago when I bought out a store there, and have had them ever since," the furniture man explained.

Baby has an easy life these days—and so does the mother. Some cribs are about four feet deep and enclosed with wire screens. Sleeping, the baby lies on a mattress within a few inches of the top. When the baby wakes, its bed is lowered to the bottom, its toys tossed in and mother plays the piano, reads a magazine or goes to a club meeting. The baby has everything it wants and cannot fall and hurt itself.

Some Have Springs
Bassinets can be swung or rocked and some of them are made so that by winding up a spring they will rock to and fro automatically.

By walking and giving to the comfort of little ones. They allow baby to walk, but are constructed so as to prevent it from bumping into the furniture or falling on the hard floor.

Nor is there much distinction between babies of poor mothers and those with wealthy parents. Bassinet, cribs and buggies can be obtained for as low as $10 while the higher grade ones sell for almost any price.

YOUNG WOMAN GOES TO CHINA AS SECRETARY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—With the distinction of being the first American woman to be sent abroad by the Department of Commerce, Miss A. Viola Smith, former California girl, sails today for China. She is to be secretary to Julean Arnold, commercial attaché in China.

The Department of Commerce has learned, to its discomfiture, that men sent abroad by the Government are prone to quit their jobs on short notice to accept private employment. So the bureau is sending out Miss Smith in the hope that, being a woman, she will stick to her two-year contract. Miss Smith will be stationed for the present at Shanghai, although Arnold's headquarters are at Peking.

Miss Smith was born in Stockton, went to school in Oakland and lived for a time with an aunt in Los Angeles. She was with the Department of Labor from 1917 to 1919, and last June graduated in law from Washington University. She has been with the Department of Commerce only a month.

"I intend to learn all I can about foreign trade," she said yesterday. "In order to become an expert trade adviser. I am making a study of international law and hope to be admitted to the bar of the American court at Shanghai."

Herman announced his intention of placing the matter of rates on bridal suites before the association in response to a recommendation recently made by the National Hotel Men's Association that hotels grant special rates to newly-married couples.

POLY-FULLERTON
FRAY OUTCOME
DOUBTFUL

Few have dared venture unprejudiced opinions as to the outcome of the Santa Ana-Fullerton football game at Fullerton Saturday. Past history reveals nothing of consequence on which to base a conjecture as to the probable outcome.

The recent games of the teams now representing the school also leave little from which to choose. Prior to the year 1917, Santa Ana never considered Fullerton as a serious contender for athletic honors great or small. The second team from the Poly high school had usually proven too much for the "Oil City" lads.

With the advent of the war Santa Ana, among other schools of the south sent many of its best athletes into the service. Fullerton sent many but retained the nucleus of a good football team.

In 1917, Santa Ana and Fullerton first teams clashed, with the result 10-0 in favor of Santa Ana. Coach "Shorty" Smith, who is now

STOCKTON LEGION

STOCKTON, Cal., Nov. 16.—Karl Ross post, American Legion, wired Secretary of State Coby protesting against any treaty with Japan that would nullify the recently adopted anti-alien law of California.

The wire was signed by A. G. Myran, president of the post, and was as follows:

"Newspaper reports state that your department is negotiating a treaty with Japan which would nullify the recently adopted alien law and law of the American Legion, among other patriotic organizations, and approved by the legion in annual convention."

Karl Ross post's 1,100 members, located at Stockton, Calif., the very hotbed of the Japanese menace, earnestly and emphatically protest any consideration of a treaty which will open our state in any degree to Oriental exploitation and control. Nullification of our protective law would be no less than a direct insult to the American Legion and the people of California."

Simple Sacrifice of "Real

ELKS LEAD IN CANVASS

Results of First Day of Roll Call Being Received
Today

One hundred pennies, saved by ones and twos during the past year, were turned over today to the Red Cross by an aged woman who lives in Santa Ana.

These 100 pennies stand as a mark of the devotion of one woman to the Greatest Mother on Earth.

During the war her knitting needles were busy long hours daily for the Red Cross. She learned to love the institution for the great heart that it is and represents. To her the simple little Red Cross button became a symbol of charity, and when pinned upon her breast signified to her that she had had a part in the great cause of assuaging human suffering, that she had had a part in feeding the hungry and that she had had a part in rescuing the dying and saving the lives of babes in the world over.

"I prize this little package of 100 pennies more than any words of mine can tell," said Mrs. Susie Rutherford, chairman of Santa Ana chapter, American Red Cross, this morning. "It speaks so much more than the ordinary dollar that it seems to be a story in humanity all by itself."

Mrs. Rutherford said that the package was turned over to a solicitor who was at work canvassing for memberships in the Red Cross.

"The solicitor told us," said Mrs. Rutherford, "that the pennies came from a real nice old lady whose smile alone was enough to repay the solicitor for stopping there. She said that she was so anxious to be a member of the Red Cross when the time came around for the annual roll call that she began saving her pennies a month ago."

Another instance of devotion to the Red Cross reported at roll call headquarters concerns another nice old lady, who, too, has little of this world's goods with which to meet the high cost of living. She wanted to have a share in the work of the Red Cross for the coming year. She did not feel able to give $1, but she did want to give fifty cents.

The Red Cross roll call today was progressing very satisfactorily. This morning Mrs. Arthur H. Lyon was at the Chamber of Commerce rooms as a representative of the city Red Cross campaign committee. She was receiving reports from various district captains from over the city.

The first institution to report as having subscribed 100 per cent strong for the Red Cross was the Community hospital.

Mrs. C. A. Riggs and Mrs. J. B. Roberts, team captain for the northeast section of the city, turned in $113.50. A number of precinct solicitors in that section have not yet begun their canvass.

Fred Rafferty, for the Chamber of Commerce committee that has the packing house section, made a partial report showing seventy members obtained. Rafferty stated that he would get as many more on Thursday.

CUBBON STREET PROCEEDINGS
BEGIN ANEW
BY COUNCIL

Much Expense to Be Eliminated Under Fresh Plan, Is Belief

DISCUSS PAVING PACTS

New Well Is to Be Drilled In Order to Increase Water Supply

New proceedings, which will change the location of the proposed extension of Cubbon street east from Main to the Pacific Electric tracks, and eliminate much of the expense, and which may include the opening of Wakeham street—in the new subdivision of Kenneth Van Slyck—through to Chestnut street, will be instituted by the city council, which last night rescinded all former action in connection with the proposed improvement.

Members of the council, yesterday afternoon, made a survey of the proposed street, following a suggestion at the previous meeting that the lines could be changed so as to eliminate considerable of the extra expense of opening.

W. J. Julien was present at the meeting last night with a plan which he declared would give a fifty foot street, make only a slight jog in its direction and save a big expense in the proceedings.

The council finally decided to rescind all former proceedings and commence anew. It is believed that the new proceedings will provide for lines that will make a five foot jog in the street, but that these lines will not break into lot boundaries so severely.

Van Slyck asked that the board, in its reconsideration, also include extension of a proposed street in his subdivision, the street to be known as Wakeham street. In former consideration of the plat for the subdivision some of the members of the council thought that Wakeham should be extended north to Chestnut.

The street, as proposed in the subdivision, runs slightly north of Bishop street. Van Slyck expressed the belief that if the council had the intention of extending to Chestnut it should be done at the same time that Cubbon street is opened.

The council will decide, before it meets in adjourned session next Monday evening, just what the lines for Cubbon street will be, and whether or not it wishes to force Wakeham through to Chestnut.

Paving Contracts
The council again engaged in a long "talkfest" on paving contracts used by paving contractors. Some times ago the board took action which required contractors to submit proposed contracts before circulating them for signatures on streets proposed to be improved.

Special Attorney Clyde Bishop advised the council, last night, that a general form of contract should be prepared, which would provide for the acceptance of any street by the council, before payment of the work is made to the contractor.

He held that the board bears the odium, if work on streets is not up to standard, and for that reason should have the final say as to whether the work done is according to specifications.

Revision of specifications for paving, cement walks and curbs and sewer pipe was proposed by City Engineer W. W. Hoy. Hoy proposed the incorporating of general conditions for paving and the making of specifications supplemental to this. Under this method he said, it will be possible to add specifications that might be deemed necessary, or make changes in those adopted, without having to repeat the general working conditions. He will draft his plans for presentation to the council at its next meeting.

A general form of contract for paving will also be drawn by Bishop and presented at the forthcoming meeting. Discussion of the proposed change in paving specifications brought up the subject as to the best quality of paving, some of the councilmen taking the view that the very best material should be used. Tubbs expressed the belief that the property owners, in most instances, would prefer the higher grade, even if it did cost a little more. Street Superintendent Hoy said that he considered Warrenite the best grade. This costs approximately seven cents per square foot more than the present concrete paving, which is being put in at a cost of twenty-three cents per foot, he stated.

Wednesday the board is to be the guest of the Standard Oil company on a tour of inspection of paving in Southern California. The company will show the trustees streets that have been improved under the Warrenite specifications.

Steele Finley was given permission to close Walnut street from Maple east to Halladay for the purpose of commencing paving operations. In making application for permission to close the streets and discussing paving that has been ordered and in contemplation, Finley stated that the work should be rushed at this time, as laborers are more plentiful now than they will be toward the first of next March. His statement was made in opposition to a proposed delay of two weeks in granting his request. The delay was suggested because the council will open bids at its meeting, November 23, for paving the Walnut street frontage of Roosevelt school.

Will Drill Another Well
A new water well is to be drilled by the city to increase further its supply. Water Superintendent Walter Wray was authorized to advertise for bids for the work. Funds for the well were provided in the recent bond election. The superintendent and Water Commissioner C. H. Chapman have not decided where the water hole will be located. Bids will be opened December 6.

For Street Equipment
Street Superintendent Hoy and Street Commissioner W. A. Greenleaf were authorized to purchase equipment for use in the street department. The equipment consists of a Caterpillar tractor, a Ford with a delivery body, an asphalt mixing plant for repaving, to be built at the city barns, a filing cabinet for the office of the engineer, an engineer's transit and a Monroe calculating machine.

Advertise for Fire Engine
The city clerk was directed to advertise for bids for equipment needed by the fire department, which is provided for in the bond issue recently voted. The clerk will advertise for a 750 gallon combination gas motor-driven pumper and hose cart, 1000 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose in 50-foot lengths, complete with couplings and 400 feet of one-inch hose in 50-foot lengths and complete with couplings.

Street Sweepings For Sale
The contract for street sweepings expires soon and the city clerk was directed to advertise them for sale. The council received $600 for the sweepings of the past year. Slag from the septic tank also will be advertised for sale.

Council Notes
A check from the Pacific Electric company for $364.45, as two per cent of the earnings of the company under the franchise granted by Ordinance No. 331, was accepted.

The board of freeholders was given an extension of thirty days from November 23, in which to complete the draft of the charter.

The Reid Motor company was given permission to erect a temporary shed at the rear of its garage on West Fifth street, for storing machines.

The Union Oil company was given permission to extend the Main street entrance to its station, at the corner of Main and Second streets, twelve feet to the North.

Application of H. R. Senonasm, for permission to erect an auto repair shop at 1026 West Sixth street, was referred to the council as a committee of the whole.

The Motor Transit Company was given permission to install a 300 gallon gasoline tank in the parking on Mortimer street, north of Fourth.

An amendment to Ordinance No. 625, providing for the leaving of openings in buildings, was adopted. The ordinance corrects an evil that has existed in building operations.

FIND $600 CASH ON DEAD MAN'S REMAINS

RENO, Nev., Nov. 16.—The body of a man was found by Al Pierce, manager of the United Metals company, at the bottom of an inclined shaft on the company's property five miles north of Reno. It is believed the man was murdered. His watch had been torn from the wrist but $600 in bills, hidden in a handkerchief tied around the right leg, was intact. Chief of Police Kirkley believes the man may be John Lewis, who was in a shooting scrape in Reno in December.

HISTORIC BUILDING CLOSED TO VISITORS

VENTURA, Nov. 16.—Because of the action of careless motorists the old adobe house near Piru, reputed to have been the home of Ramona, has been closed to visitors. The house is historic in its associations and is situated on the Camulos ranch. The owners state that they were forced to close the house because of the abuse of privileges extended to motorists.

LUMBER WILL GO NO LOWER UNTIL WAGES COME DOWN

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16.—Southern California retail lumber dealers, in session at the Clark hotel, appear to have settled the question of building prices for Los Angeles and vicinity for some time to come by stating that there will be no further reduction in the cost of lumber until wages are reduced.

Members of the chamber of commerce, the realty board and various housing committees expressed the belief that with the fact definitely stated that lumber prices will go no lower, hundreds of lot owners who have been waiting for a more favorable outlook will begin the construction of houses immediately.

UP-STATE NEWS

STOCKTON.—To permit citizens of Stockton to vote on the proposition of bonding the city for about $1,600,000 to provide for the materialization of the Calaveras flood control project, a special election will be called before January 1st. At the conference between prominent citizens and the city council the mayor and commissioners all expressed their intention of adopting a resolution which will be the first step toward holding the election.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Announcement of the purchase of a 2500-acre tract of farming land in Kern county, between Shafter and Wasco, by Herbert C. Hoover and Ralph P. Merritt for the development of a cotton, vineyard and orchard enterprise, has been made by Merritt.

STOCKTON.—Discovery by C. O. Smith, commissioner of public health and safety, of a clause in the city charter which gives the council power to define what shall constitute a nuisance, is believed by Smith to be all that is needed to get the local gambling houses "on the hip." Following close upon his find, Smith introduced a resolution at the council meeting yesterday afternoon, declaring all gambling houses in Stockton to be nuisances.

BYRON.—Another record sale of alfalfa land was made here this week, when 75 acres belonging to Alexson, 50 of which are in three-year-old alfalfa, were sold to Silva Bros. of Dixon for $42,900, or $560 an acre. There were no improvements. The land was purchased several years ago for $240 an acre.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Mayor Rolph is all through, politically, in California, according to the best belief of well-informed politicians, who were discussing yesterday the mayor's refusal to do anything for the Republican ticket in the last election. These observers were agreed that the mayor will look to the Republican party in vain when he announces his candidacy two years hence for governor.

SAN FRANCISCO.—The State Banking department has given the Anglo-California Trust company of San Francisco permission to collect savings from the school children of the city and county of San Francisco. Other changes in the state authorized by the state department this week include the addition of a savings department to the Bank of Lankershim, which has been conducting a purely commercial business, and permission to the Home and Hibernian Bank of Los Angeles to change its name to the California Bank.

URGENT WHITE FLY BE ERADICATED IMMEDIATELY

Professor H. J. Quayle, entomologist of the University of California citrus station at Riverside, and who has been in charge of the walnut codling moth fight in Orange county, states that the committee of state, university and federal entomologists, who have held a conference in Sacramento on the menace of the white fly, have recommended to the office of H. G. Hecke, state commissioner of agriculture, that an effort be made to eradicate the white fly in California. Professor Quayle characterizes the white fly as the most serious pest that might affect the citrus industry. It is quite general in Florida and a serious drawback to the industry there.

"If the citrus industry can afford to spend $2,000,000 annually, which it does, to fumigate against scale," said Professor Quayle, "it can well afford to spend a million to prevent the white fly, which is now conspicuous about Sacramento and Marysville, from getting a hold in the citrus groves of California."

Here Twelve Years
The white fly was brought in from Florida to Sacramento in 1908. A determined effort was made to eradicate it when Elwood Mead was state commissioner. Some owners of property in cities, defended their property with shotguns to prevent trees and vines in their yards from being partially destroyed in stopping the pest. The work was quite effective, however, and did much to prevent its spread. In recent years it has again begun to get a hold and the state will consider the expenditure of such money as is necessary to eradicate it entirely. It is now in 12 to 14 city blocks of Sacramento but the greatest fear is that it may be carried into the citrus groves of Southern California, where it might spread rapidly, as it is very partial to citrus trees.

CHARGES BAD CHECK
A complaint has been sworn to by E. E. French, charging R. E. White with a felony in giving him an alleged worthless check for $25 on the First National Bank of Lindsay. White is said not to have had an account with the Lindsay bank.

POLY-FULLERTON FRAY OUTCOME DOUBTFUL

mentor of the Fullerton squad, was in charge of the Santa Ana team.

The "flu" epidemic in 1918 prevented a game in that year but last year Fullerton annexed the big end of a 41 to 0 score in the game with Santa Ana. Fullerton had retained a football organization practically intact throughout the war period. Santa Ana, with a brand new aggregation and a new coach, could do nothing more than hold the Fullerton team, which was unusually strong, to 41 points.

Fullerton Has Edge.
In weight and experience this year, Fullerton is thought to have a slight advantage. Santa Ana has the light and speed and if hard playing and good football tactics will win, the Poly high boys should bring home the heavy end of the score Saturday.

According to word reaching here from Fullerton today, Coach Smith and his forty huskies have gone into seclusion for the remainder of the week, excepting Saturday. Secret practice is on, and only the coaches, men in football suits, adorn Fullerton field these evenings.

Smith and his crew realize that they face the battle of the year Saturday — this is not press agent "dope," but comes direct from the "Oil Drillers'" camp, and from one of the men high up in the councils of the Smith clan.

"They are not underestimating Santa Ana's strength, nor overrating their own," says this authority. "They are forgetting comparative scores and thinking of but one thing — Santa Ana," Saturday, November 20.

"Just what is doing on Fullerton Field these evenings is problematical. The coach is noncommittal, as is Captain McDermont, but enough is known to convince anyone that Fullerton is fearful of the outcome. Fullerton fears 'Eenie' Wilcox, Santa Ana's crack quarterback, and is worrying about its ability to stop Poly high's wide end runs."

"Flawweights to Play"
The "flawweights" of the local high school are scheduled to clash with Fullerton "flawweights" on the Fullerton field Thursday afternoon. The Fullerton lightweighters are said to be fast and aggressive and the local boys are expected to have a hard scrap.

Fullerton and Santa Ana second teams will play on the Poly field Friday afternoon. The second string game should prove a good one as both teams have won a number of games already this season and will be out for blood when they meet here Friday. Both teams have good players, based from the first teams by lack of weight. This game should prove a regular battle from start to finish.

The biggest sum turned over this morning was that brought in by L. A. Schlesinger, who with Cood Adams captained the Elks teams, soliciting the southwest section of the business section of the city. The Elks teams' total was $278.

Other districts had not reported in at the time this report was secured. Mrs. Kenneth Scovel has been appointed chairman to make arrangements for booths to be placed on a number of street corners Friday, Saturday and Monday. Men and women who for any reason were missed by solicitors during the week will have the opportunity to obtain memberships at these booths.

How to Care for Your Eyes

EYE STRAIN is one of the most insidious evils of the times. Hard usage, bright lights, nervous tension — all put too great a load upon the eyes. The only safe-guard is to wear the proper glasses as soon as you need them — possibly for a short time only.

Have Your Eyes Examined

The only safe plan is to have your eyes examined before this strain weakens the delicate nerves and muscles that control the vision — just as filling a small cavity will save a tooth. Our examination is safe, sane and scientific. Let US examine YOUR eyes.

Escaped an Operation

There is nothing in the world a woman so much fears as a surgical operation. Often they are necessary, but often not; and many have been avoided by the timely use of that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you are suffering from some dread ailment peculiar to your sex, why not profit by the experience of these two women whose letters follow?

These Two Women Saved from Operations.

Cedar Rapids, Ia. — "After the birth of my last child I had such painful spells they would unfit me entirely for my housework. I suffered for months and the doctor said that my trouble was organic ulcers and I would have to have an operation. That was a awful thing to me, with a young baby and four other children, so one day I thought of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how it had helped me years before and I decided to try it again. I took five bottles of Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and since then I have been a well woman, able to take care of my house and family without any trouble or a day's pain. I am ready and thankful to swear by your medicine any time. I am forty-four years old and have not had a day's illness of any kind for three years." — Mrs. H. KORNIG, 617 Ellis Blvd, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Sandusky, Ohio. — "After the birth of my baby I had organic trouble. My doctor said it was caused by too heavy lifting and I would have to have an operation. I would not consent to an operation and let it go for over a year, having my sister do my work for me as I was not able to walk. One day my aunt came to see me and told me about your medicine — said it cured her of the same thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and they have cured me. Now I do my own housework, washing and ironing and sewing for my family and also do sewing for other people. I still take a bottle of Vegetable Compound every spring for a tonic. I recommend your medicine to others who have troubles similar to mine and you can use my letter if you wish." — Mrs. PAUL PAPERFUR, 1325 Stone St., Sandusky, Ohio.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—Under an active demand all lines of fruits and vegetables are higher on the local produce market yesterday, and some of the leaders displayed a strong upward tendency. Arrivals were limited, particularly those from the country, and the bulk of the offerings moved during the early hours of the session. The outstanding feature of the day was the strong advance made by cauliflower, which has been very weak for some time. The shipping market, good cauliflower was up 35 to 40 cents per crate, with buying at the highest level. The heavy demand in the East for this commodity was reported yesterday, and local dealers are anticipating a strong upward trend in the near future. In sympathy with the higher prices which prevailed in the shipping market, strong upward turn was taken by this commodity on the wholesale market, which averaged about 40 cents per field crate above Saturday's level.

Cranberries also advanced yesterday, good stock selling about 25 cents per barrel above the quotations. The leading grade of peas were firmer despite the fact that supplies are moving up. Offerings selling at a premium of about a cent per pound. String beans also advanced slightly, and turnips, of which supplies were scarce, moved up 5 cents per dozen bunches for all grades, while the Malaga grapes, which were very limited, were selling as high as 15 cents per pound.

Lettuce held firm on the wholesale market, but the shipping market for this commodity was weaker, prices falling about 10 cents per crate below those of Saturday's market. Tomatoes were very steady, although sales were few and a light movement was reported. Potatoes were unchanged both on the wholesale market and in the carlot market.

JABS AND JOLTS

And Soothing Words on Sports

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Professional football has been a fact in the East for several years, though so far it is an unknown quantity on the Pacific coast. The year 1921, however, will find the professional football invading this coast. "Alfie" Putnam, secretary of the San Francisco baseball club, is the instigator of the movement. Putnam is of the opinion that, if given a start, professional football will find a following on this coast. His intention is to get the famous Jim Thorpe club and another famous Eastern professional club to come West and play games at Seattle, Portland, Los Angeles, San Francisco and other cities where agreements could be made satisfactorily. He also has in mind, in San Francisco, three professional teams and as many more as it is possible to organize.

Putnam realizes that football is a different game to baseball. Any nine men can get out on a diamond and play, but it is impossible to have a team. The football team must have a definite series of team play and this means constant working and playing together to accomplish this end. If former college stars can be induced to get into the professional game, Putnam believes that some high class teams can be organized. If these teams are organized and work out as planned they will be used against the two Eastern professional teams.

Some of the Eastern professional players receive large salaries, though other men receive from $50 to $150 a game, according to their positions and reputations. No such salaries could be guaranteed coast players in the initial years of professional ball. The game would have to work its way to its own success and if it proved eventually to be a drawing card there is no question but that the players would soon make demands on the club owners for payment according to their ability.

Putnam does not believe that professional football leagues would make a hit, at least not to start with. He prefers to see individual teams organized and just as big a kick could be got out of these individual teams as would be the case with league teams. If, however, the experiment eventually shows that a league along the Pacific Coast would pay, the San Francisco impresario would be willing to organize such a league and make arrangements for financing it.

The famous Jim Thorpe is president of the professional football association of clubs in the East. He is a phenomenal player and in his days at Carlisle was named on practically every All-American team that the Eastern experts selected. Even Walter Camp recognized the ability of the Indian, and today, many years after his college career, he is recognized as one of the greatest football players in this country. Wherever he plays in the East thousands of people turn out to see him. It is natural the football fans of this coast would avail themselves of the opportunity to see this famous star in action anywhere he played on this coast.

PEACH GROWER NAMED IN $735,000 SUIT

MODESTO, Nov. 18.—Two original suits against Dr. C. W. Evans filed last year by the Pratt-Lux Preserving company asking for damages amounting to approximately $653,000 were dismissed by Superior Judge J. C. Needham on the request of the attorneys for the plaintiff corporation. Two new suits were recently filed asking for a total of approximately $735,000. The suits were brought against Dr. Evans for the alleged non-delivery of peaches from his ranch south of Modesto. The peaches were contracted for in 1918, according to the last complaints and because of non-delivery the preserving company may lose $735,000 in the next ten years, the term of the contract, judged by the prevailing market prices for the past two years and the output from the ranch during the same period of time.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Nov. 16.—Seated side by side, with the woman holding a needle and a garment she was sewing, the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rickli, both 70 years old, and former residents of Tacoma, Wash., were found in the kitchen of a lodging house, with gas flowing from a broken pipe.

Industry and Commerce

Santa Ana's industrial progress has been a matter of steady growth. As the natural resources of Orange County have been developed, Santa Ana has developed as the commercial center for their distribution.

More walnuts are shipped from Santa Ana than from any other station in the world. Orange County walnuts are famous for their size, flavor and food value.

Santa Ana, however, is more than a shipping center for Orange County's many soil products. She boasts manufacturing industries that would do credit to a large city. A spotlight factory whose output is sold in all parts of the country, an auto top manufacturing plant, large woolen mills, a wholesale grocery, two sugar factories within two miles of the city's center.

Santa Ana affords the manufacturing advantages of a large city. It affords the added material advantage of an open season for working. Santa Ana's salubrious air and sunshine mean health and vitality for workers. Furthermore, Santa Ana has abundant electrical power and fine shipping facilities.

If you are interested in industrial Santa Ana and wish information as to investments, our officers will be glad to advise with you.

COMPENSATION INCREASE IN STATE CLAIMS IN DIRECT TOUCH WITH 100,000 EMPLOYEES EARLY

A summary of the California Industrial Accident Commission's annual report to Governor Wm. D. Stephens shows that there were over 1,000,000 employees in this state, and that the Industrial Accident Commission has official business with more than 100,000 of these employees each year. That is, 10 out of each 100 employees are injured. Consequently the work of the commission is of more than ordinary importance to the citizens of California.

A substantial decrease in the industrial deaths and permanent injuries during 1919 as compared to 1918 is noteworthy. There were 586 deaths, as compared to 706 in 1918, a reduction of 120. The permanent injuries for 1919 numbered 1,714, as against 2,100 for 1918, a reduction of 386. This is gratifying news, especially as the total number of injuries in 1919 was 4,180, as against 5,196 in 1918. In 1919 there were 108,947 industrial injuries as compared to 104,767 in 1918. The temporary injuries in 1919 numbered 105,952, as against 101,961 in 1918. To find a reduction in the number of deaths and permanent injuries in the face of this increase in the temporary injuries, is indeed significant.

Figures on Deaths
A survey of the 586 industrial deaths shows that 146 occurred in operations not coming within the scope of the law, leaving 440 compensable cases. There were 149 deaths in railroad, vessel and stevedoring operations, 119 in construction and 95 in manufacturing. Agriculture was responsible for 40 deaths, and public utilities for 45. The greatest single cause of deaths was vehicles, 233 deaths, or 40 per cent of the total. Deaths from the operation of boats, cars, automobiles, wagons and other vehicles. There were 31 deaths from electricity, 86 from machinery and 12 from the explosion of firearms. There were 9 women killed while at work in 1919.

The statistics show that following the 586 industrial deaths there were 656 total dependents as the result of 278 fatalities; 106 partial dependents were left in 53 fatal cases; in 170 fatal cases there were no dependents, and in 83 fatal cases the degree of dependency was unknown. The average age of widows was 39.3 years. The dependent children averaged 9 years. These averages show the need for considering future needs.

In 15 cases of serious and permanent injuries life pensions were awarded. There were 13 such cases in 1918. Injuries that caused a time loss of over 7 days numbered 28,974. The remaining temporary injuries did not last longer than the waiting period.

Deaths and Injuries
The Commission's Statistical Department presents the following comparison of the 1919 industrial toll as compared to previous years: Deaths: 1919, 586; 1918, 706; 1917, 626; 1916, 657; 1915, 533; 1914, 691. Permanent injuries: 1919, 1,714; 1918, 2,100; 1917, 1,942; 1916, 1,709; 1915, 1,264; 1914, 1,292. Eyes suffering an impairment of vision or removal: 1919, 239; 1918, 251; 1917, 230; 1916, 202; 1915, 175; 1914, 172. Arms amputated: 1919, 33; 1918, 36; 1917, 28; 1916, 20; 1915, 13; 1914, 28. Fingers lost: 1919, 738; 1918, 1,059; 1917, 904; 1916, 900; 1915, 798; 1914, 872. Legs or feet lost: 1919, 34; 1918, 25; 1917, 32; 1916, 26; 1915, 28; 1914, 45. Toe amputations: 1919, 66; 1918, 51; 1917, 34; 1916, 33; 1915, 40; 1914, 54. In 1919 there were 9 women workers killed; 8 in 1918; 2 in 1917; 4 in 1916; 2 in 1915 and 2 in 1914.

The average age of the killed during 1919 was 34 years and the average wage was $28.51 a week, as compared to 39.9 years and $25.01 a week for 1918.

Occupational diseases reported in 1919 numbered 453; in 1918, 445; in 1917, 506; in 1916, 348.

Medical Costs
The sum of $5,621,825 was awarded California's 108,947 injured workers (including the dependents of those killed) during 1919. The sum of $1,447,242 represents the medical, surgical and hospital payments. The total of these two sums gives $7,069,070.

The Supreme Court of the United States declared unconstitutional the amendment to the Federal Judicial Code giving maritime workers an option to accept compensation in the different States, or to proceed in the Federal courts. The decision was by a five to four vote in the highest court in the land and was rendered in the case of Knickerbocker Ice company, vs. Stewart. Consequently stevedores and maritime workers, even though employed within the State of California, are not under the jurisdiction of the Industrial Accident Commission, at least as to injuries occurring upon vessels.

Self-Insurance
Employers to the number of 221 have applied to the Commission for certificates to self-insure. Approximately 204,802 employees are covered this way. Security has been deposited with the State Treasurer by the 221 employers to the amount of $4,275,000.

Parties dissatisfied with decisions of the Commission filed 53 applications for writs of review with the Supreme and Appellate Courts. During the year 1,796 claims were filed with the Commission and 1,732 cases were decided. These figures show that in only 3 per cent of the cases decided was there any attempt to overrule awards. The higher courts sustained the Commission in 40 cases, reversed the decisions in 12 cases and 1 case was undecided at the close of the fiscal year.

One of the most important decisions upheld the Commission's interpretation of the word "injury" in a case where death resulted from influenza found to have been contracted in the course of employment. The Supreme Court's decision was unanimous on June 30, 1920 in reviewing the case of Geraldine Slatery vs. City and County of San Francisco. Applicant's husband, a hospital steward, had to care for influenza patients. It was held the work was the proximate cause of his death.

Compensation Department
During the year 2,190 formal hearings were held and 1,732 applications for compensation acted upon by the Commission, and 819 supplementary proceedings were brought in cases criticized. The assets on June 30, already decided. The Commission 1920, amounted to $4,584,779.14, div-acted upon 301 settlement agreements referred for examination and approval. The outstanding item of interest regarding the Compensation Department is the increase in the number of claims filed found to be without sufficient foundation; 494 applicants were denied compensation, an increase of 69 per cent when compared to the 292 denied claims of the previous year.

The time required for the determination of the ordinary contested case was 68 days from the filing of the claim. There was an increase in the time for all cases because of the war and the great difficulty in obtaining evidence concerning dependent claims from those residing in Europe. It must not be forgotten that out of over 100,000 industrial injuries last year only 1,782 contested cases resulted between employers (or their insurance carriers), and employees that necessitated formal proceedings and adjudication by the Commission.

The main questions involved in the contested cases were extent and duration of disability (493), whether injury was in course of employment (257), whether disability was result of injury (236), hernia (108), dependency (102). The vexatious problem of hernia was presented in 106 cases as against 69 hernia cases in the preceding year.

Permanent Disability
About two thousand permanent injuries were raised during the year. The Commission invites each permanently hurt man to visit either the office in San Francisco or in Los Angeles so that a member of its medical staff may examine him and make sure his disabilities are fully set out. The Commission's representatives and insurance carriers and their doctors. The wisdom of this course of providing independent examinations became instantly apparent. Quite a goodly proportion of the entire number of cases were found to be incompletely reported on the outside medical forms. The Commission's activity in this connection resulted in considerably more money reaching the injured men than would otherwise be the case. The smaller group of disabled workers unable to visit the two main offices were checked up carefully by means of correspondence.

A total of 1,074 men and women needing re-education because of their serious injuries were in touch with this department during the twelve months. The Commission's representative is a young man who lost both his hands in an accident. He is able to do practically anything that can be done by a man with two hands and thus speedily wins the confidence of the crippled. Such men and women are now in schools, business colleges and technical schools, preparing for the future. Others are learning new occupations, watch making, engraving, mechanical dentistry, and various lines of activity suitable for those prevented from following their former hazardous callings. Several men are attending the State Farm at Davis and are learning scientific methods of farming and poultry raising. All the expenses of tuition are paid by the State as the outcome of a law passed by the last session of the California Legislature.

Death Benefit Cases
The status of beneficiaries under the Workmen's Compensation Act left dependent as the result of industrial deaths was ascertained during the year. The Industrial Accident Commission co-operated with the Children's Department of the State Board of Control. The limitation of four and one-half years for compensation death benefits means that frequently widows and children will have their income stopped when most needed. The survey covered 397 cases. It was found the standard of living was lower than that maintained during the lifetime of the breadwinner. The deplorable financial condition of some of these families when compensation stops can be imagined and the Commission will propose that new legislation be enacted to properly care for the dependents.

During the fiscal year 3,064 physical examinations of injured employees took place, as compared to 1,513 during the preceding year. All these examinations were made by the Commission's doctors. In addition, 662 special medical examinations by outside experts as referees or examiners were reported.

The new methods of medical and surgical treatment and rehabilitation that proved so successful during the war were introduced in California, to the benefit of the injured workers. Occupational physical and medical have been installed. A "placement bureau" is advocated, so that hurt men may have function restored by means of light employment, and employers and insurance carriers will also benefit by this plan. Convalescent departments in industrial plants will aid human rehabilitation.

Department of Safety
This most important of the Commission's activities aims to reduce industrial hazards and prevent injuries overtaking employees. Despite the lack of financial resources and a shortage of safety engineers, all that was humanly possible was done during the year. Co-operation with the U. S. Bureau of Mines and the Fire Prevention Bureau of the Pacific resulted in enlargement of the work.

Complaints concerning dangerous places of employment were investigated. There were 2,708 inspections made of industrial plants, in which there were 162,930 employees. It is the policy to ascertain the cause of each fatality and plan to prevent a recurrence. California Safety News, a monthly publication sent free of cost to all sending in their names, has increased in circulation and is a fine medium for illustrating safe practices and conveying safety information to employers and employees.

State Compensation
In the year 1919 the net premium writings for compensation coverage amounted to $9,739,617.15, of which the State Compensation Insurance Fund wrote $3,251,974.25, or 33.39 per cent, in competition with about thirty insurance carriers. Starting with an appropriated capital of $100,000, which is still held intact in the State Treasury, the State Fund has now reached a position of financial strength and stability which is beyond any competitive

STREET RAILWAY SUFFERS MOST IS REPORT

The interurban and street railways have suffered more, perhaps, than any other class of utilities from the conditions brought about by steadily rising costs during the last few years, says the Railroad commission in its report to Governor William D. Stephens for the year ending June 30, 1920. With street railway fares fixed at 5 cents, by custom and by franchise, the shrinking value of the dollar threatened disastrous consequences for practically all street railways.

"And yet," says the report, "it is apparent that, in spite of the more severe competition of motor vehicles, the time is by no means here when our cities and rural territories can dispense with electric railway facilities. The automobile stage, the jitney and the privately-owned automobile are not a substitute for the street railway or the electric interurban railway. In the few places in the United States where this belief was prevalent, the consequences have shown its fallacy."

The commission says it has not hesitated to extend to the electric railway systems of the state such relief, by increase of fares or by establishment of the zone system, or by ordering radical operating economies, as would insure a continuation of reasonably good service. Continuing, it says:

"The commission has also taken opportunity to call attention to its belief that the relationship between street railway and the communities they serve should be radically changed and that a modification of obsolete franchise requirements would distinctly be in the interest of the public. No sound reason exists any longer, for instance, why the street car user should bear the total burden of the cost of paving a portion of the most expensive city streets when in adjoining city streets, which do not have the advantage of street railway service, this same burden is borne entirely by the adjoining property owners. The change from unsatisfactory and obsolete term franchises to better indeterminate franchises is now being effected in several communities and is being given careful consideration in others. The commission, under the Public Utilities act, is called upon to take a part in the creation of better franchise conditions and several proceedings of this nature are now pending.

Night school at O. C. Bus. College.

Ends to policyholders have reached a total of $1,737,447.68, and the State Fund holds a net surplus of $1,497,035.11 over and above all liabilities. It is expected the premium writings for the year 1920 will exceed $4,000,000.

ARMY OFFICER HELD AS BOOZE SMUGGLER

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 16—An army medical corps officer, First Lieut. Clyde D. Laughlin, was arrested with two companions, Jack Russell and William Aldrich, near Jamul, San Diego county, on a charge of attempting to smuggle liquor across the line from Mexico. A motor car loaded with two cases of bottled whiskey and five gallons of moonshine brandy was discovered near the scene of the arrest. The three suspects denied ownership of the car or its contents, but they will be arraigned before a United States Commissioner.

American Merchant ships are now the rule rather than the exception in European ports.

MODERN CRANKCASE CLEANING SERVICE

Dirt in your Engine Oil— Get rid of it!

A LARGE quantity of dust-laden air is "inhaled" by the daily operation of an automobile engine. With this road dust, carbon and fine particles of metal get into the lubricating oil and circulate through your engine, lowering the efficiency of its operation. Add to this dirt the gasoline that escapes past the pistons and dilutes the oil —

Here you have a combination that wears and tears and grinds away, every day adding a little more dirt and forcing a little more unnecessary wear on bearing surfaces. Result: slow response—less power—poor performance—shorter engine life.

Our new Modern Crankcase Cleaning Service is the enemy of dirt in the crankcase—it means "clean oil in a clean engine." The Calol Flushing Oil we use is the new, scientific, thorough flushing agent that does not contaminate the fresh Zerolene refilled into your cleaned crankcase. This modern, convenient service, given quickly and at a nominal cost, returns your engine to you clean and fresh, ready to give that satisfactory performance you expect. Today: Bring in your car for Modern Crankcase Cleaning Service.
